Progress of the Citizens Union Movement—Other Views of the Subject

San Francisco, March [9].—The [illegible] of the [citi]zens [illegible] this [illegible] seems to [be] received with much satisfaction [illegible] The general expression is that it is true [illegible] the [illegible] should be [illegible] The [illegible] pledge [illegible] circulated [illegible] numerously signed:

Citizens Protective Union: We the undersigned hereby pledge ourselves to assist in all lawful ways the authorities in the preservation of public peace and the maintenance of order and protection of lives and property of our fellow citizens, and for these purposes we associate ourselves together.

These rolls are now opened in public places, but are taken around by parties designated for that purpose, about one hundred and fifty of whom are engaged in the work, and signatures are sought among those only who are known to be in sympathy with the organization and its purposes. What view the workingmen take of the matter has not been ascertained, but Kearney was seen this morning accompanied by a brand new Winchester rifle with its adjuncts, and in reply to an inquiry on said it was intended for a martial ornament.

San Francisco, March 9.—During the day about 150 men have been engaged in obtaining signatures to the roll of the Citizens Protective Union with decided success. To a very considerable extent the project finds favor with the business classes, though many question the necessity or wisdom of such a movement. The Bulletin this evening treats the subject editorially under the heading of "Organizing Prosperity," taking ground that the organization means just what it says, viz: Preservation of public peace, protection of life and property, restoration of confidence in the security of life and property from all violence and restoration of legitimate commerce, industries and business of the people by peaceful methods within the law, and approves the undertaking as tending to act as a safeguard against both mob violence and vicious legislation. It may be said that there are many who do not accept the Bulletin's view of the real intent of the organization, but assume that something of a more radical nature is contemplated, hinting at ordering incendiary agitators out of the city or even more pronounced measures. It is difficult to learn anything more regarding the plans of the union than is set forth in its manifesto. If there are any secrets among the promoters they are well kept.

The Post this evening publishes the following brief reference to the subject:

We have a strong municipal and state government quite able and willing to suppress any unlawful assemblage, whether its headquarters are at the sand lot or in secret chambers.

The workingmen have not yet been heard from.

Kearney on the Situation—He Proposes to Keep up the Agitation, Etc.

San Francisco, March 9.—Kearney was interviewed to-night on the subject of the vigilance committee and kindred matters. He is defiant and evidently looks on the present excitement as furnishing him with fresh weapons. He says that the working men are peaceable and law abiding, that the city is entirely safe in their hands and that it is only Chinese employers and stock gamblers who threaten to make any trouble. He affects to treat the formation of a vigilance committee with contempt, and to believe that they will not dare to molest him, but it is noticeable that he has made a perfect arsenal of his residence. This morning he bought a Winchester repeating rifle, which he keeps in his sleeping room, and both his brothers, who live with him, are provided with revolvers and shotguns. Kearney declares his intention of keeping up the agitation and swears that if violence is used to stop him speedy and terrible vengeance will be taken. As a counter to the action of the vigilantes, he proposes to hold all the employers of Chinese labor responsible for their action, and declares his intention of making a list of two hundred names of whoever he has reason to suspect of being concerned in it and reading it at the sand lots. Every one of those men who do not clear themselves of the suspicion that they are prime movers will be denounced as assassins and marked for retribution.

Kearney made a brief speech at a large meeting at Irish-American hall this evening, in which he took substantially the above ground and attacked bitterly the men who are supposed to be prominent in the vigilante movement. The crowd applauded his threats vociferously.

Police Force Increased.

San Francisco, March 9.—The board of supervisors last night finally passed the order increasing the police force.

The Test Case Submitted to the Court.

In the U. S. circuit court this morning Mr. Bergin closed the argument for petitioner, and the case was submitted. The court gave till Saturday to file briefs.

The Weston-O'Leary Walking Match.

At 1:30 P. M., O'Leary, 145, Weston 132. During the day attendance at the walking match was small, and lack of interest was manifest, but this evening there is a large and enthusiastic crowd present. A pool box is running, betting being 2½ on O'Leary to 20 on Weston. Both men are in good form. The score at 9 P. M. stood O'Leary 177, Weston 161.

Election at Oakland.

At the Oakland city election yesterday there were two tickets in the field—citizens and workingmen's. The former made a clean sweep by majorities ranging from 200 to 1400.

Destructive Fire at Oakland.

Fire was discovered in the Grand Central Hotel, Oakland, at about 2 o'clock this morning. The wind was blowing a gale and the flames had made great progress before the fire department arrived. All around the hotel were situated other buildings, among which the Webster House with five others and the Grand Central were destroyed. The losses are as follows: Grand Central $250,000, partially insured; Webster House $20,000, uninsured. The other losses amount to $30,000. The Grand Central was a wooden structure 400x300 feet, four stories with mansard roof, and was built about seven years ago by Michael Reese, the deceased millionaire.

The fire in the Grand Central broke out in the rear of the dining room near the center of the building. It burned slowly at first and the occupants of the house—about 70 in number—had time to arise and save most of their personal effects, though there was necessarily much confusion. There was no panic and eye witnesses say that it was the grandest scene of the kind they ever witnessed. The guests were busy packing up their property while many stood about the halls watching the slow progress of the flames. After the fire had fairly gained access to the open air destruction was rapid owing to the high wind. Burning brands carried by the gale set several fires at a distance leeward of the hotel. Most of the furniture on the first and second floors was saved.

The Colusa Lumber Company's ware[house] was badly wrecked, damage $300 or $400. Marshal's stable on Front street was blown [illegible] wreck, damage $300. When the wind [illegible] reached its height the front wall of the [Cent]ral hotel, about fifty feet in length and three feet in height, fell and smashed the porch and verandah the whole length of the building, damage $400. The [illegible] of Jones & Co's brick warehouse for a distance of 60 or 80 feet was blown down, which gave the wind a chance to unroof the whole building, damage $4000. The north end of the immense warehouse of Harden Bros & Maxwell was blown down and the roof badly wrecked, damage $400. The barn of J. S. Daverpeck, two miles from Willows, was completely wrecked, loss $400. Signs, porches, outhouses and loose lumber were strewn in every direction, entailing a great loss, but as far as could be ascertained no lives were lost, although the loss of property must be immense.

STEAMBOAT SUNK AT SEATTLE

The "Fanny Lake" Sinks at her Wharf—One Man Drowned

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Seattle, March 9.—The steamer Fanny Lake, with a full load of freight for Nooksack and way ports, sank at Mill street dock at 3 o'clock this morning. She had been made fast during the previous day to the fender piles of the wharf and as the tide receded her lines slipped down and as it rose again during the night they held her fast, causing her to list over toward the wharf and ultimately to fill with water. Several passengers and the crew who were asleep at the time had no warning of the approaching catastrophe until the water flooded their rooms, several of them escaping in their night clothes. Peter Sinclair, deck hand, was missing and upon hauling the steamer out this afternoon was found dead in his bunk, having been drowned while asleep. The freight is all in a damaged condition.

Drowned in the Skagit

James Almond, while crossing the Skagit river on a raft on the 4th inst. at the head of canoe navigation, capsized and was drowned.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY

The Murdered Man Identified

Walla Walla, March 9.—The murdered man is supposed to be Sonnet, who arrived here from Council Bluffs, Iowa, last October. He deposited money in the First National bank. He was recognized by two men who came across with him in an emigrant car. The theory is that he was taken out to where he was murdered on the excuse to be shown land which he was desirous of purchasing.

Everything possible was done to him to destroy his identity, even to cutting off his beard. The river where he was found is twenty miles from this city and is right on the old Wallula road. He must have been killed close to where he was found, for the river is too low to have carried him any distance. No arrests have been made yet, but Sheriff Thompson is hard at work.

SUPREME COURT DECISIONS.

Syllabus and Full Text of Decision in the Case of Appolonia Phillippi, Respondent, vs Ananias Thompson, Appellant; appeal from Multnomah County.

SYLLABUS.

1. In an action of ejectment where the defendant merely traverses the allegations in the complaint and does not set up title in herself or another, the defendant will be confined in his testimony to such facts only as tend to show the weakness of the plaintiff's title.

2. And where the plaintiff in his evidence produces a confirmatory deed to establish his title in which is recited other deeds by their dates through which plaintiff derives title, it is competent for defendant to offer in evidence and produce these deeds recited to show the boundaries of the land claimed by the plaintiff.

3. A party entering land under the color of title is presumed to enter and occupy according to his title.

STATEMENT OF THE CASE.

This is a simple suit in ejectment. Plaintiff in her complaint alleges that she is the owner in fee simple and entitled to the real estate described in the complaint and asks for the possession of the same.

The defendant answers denying the allegations of the complaint.

At the June term 1879 of the circuit court this cause was tried upon the issues thus joined and the jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for a portion of the premises claimed in the complaint.

A motion for a new trial was overruled by the court, and on the —— day of —— 1879 judgment was rendered in accordance with the verdict in favor of the plaintiff and for her costs taxed at $40.25, from which judgment this appeal is taken.

On the trial plaintiff offered in evidence the United States patent to the Couch claim, which assigns the south half of the claim to Caroline Couch. It is also shown the property in controversy is included in the south half of said claim. Plaintiff also introduced in evidence a confirmatory deed from the widow and heirs in law of Couch to the plaintiff dated November 12, 1872, conveying lots 6 and 7 in fractional block 30 in Couch's addition. Plaintiff further offered in evidence testimony showing that she and her husband, from whom she had derived title, had since the year 1858 claimed possession and had been in actual possession of all that portion of said lots 6 and 7 that lies north of an old fence which was constructed by one Ebinger prior to 1858.

Defendant then moved for a non suit, which motion was overruled.

Defendant then offered to introduce in evidence certain deeds for the purpose of showing that plaintiff held the land in dispute under a paper title in which the same was described by definite boundaries, the introduction of which was disallowed.

Defendant also offered to introduce in evidence certain deeds to the defendant and to persons from whom he derives title for the purpose of showing the boundary line between the lands of plaintiff and defendant, the introduction of which was allowed by the court.

Defendant asked that the following instructions be given to the jury: "That if the possession of the land under dispute was originally taken under a paper title, then the presumption of law is that they hold according to the description in their deeds; this presumption will prevail until it is overcome by proof of a change in the manner of holding," which instruction the court refused to give upon the ground that there was no testimony on that point.

The errors assigned in defendant's notice of appeal are as follows:

First—The court erred in admitting the confirmatory deed from widow and heirs at law of J. H. Couch to the plaintiff for lots No. 6 and 7 in fractional block No. 30 Couch's addition, dated Nov. 1[2], 1872, exhibit "A" of the bill of exceptions.

Second—The court erred in not allowing the defendant's motion for a nonsuit.

Third—The court erred in not admitting the deeds offered by defendant to prove that plaintiff held the land in dispute under a paper title which the land was described with certain specific boundaries.

Fourth—The court erred in not admitting in evidence the deeds offered by the defendant for the purpose of showing the true boundary line between the lands of plaintiff and defendant.

Fifth—The court erred in not giving to the jury the instructions presented by the defendant and fully set forth in the bill of exceptions.

Sixth—The court erred in rendering judgment against the defendant.

OPINION BY BOISE, J.

[illegible] was incumbent on [illegible] [illegible] amount [illegible] confirmatory deed from [illegible] [illegible]

In the error assigned [illegible] the deeds offered [illegible] [illegible] certain specific boundaries [illegible]

[illegible]

It is claimed that the respondent having shown possession of twenty years raised a presumption of a written conveyance of the land in dispute. Whether the evidence on this point showed an adverse possession for twenty years on the strip of land in dispute, which was less than one foot in width and on the boundary of the plaintiff's land, was a question for the jury, and any evidence by the defendant tending to show that the plaintiff had not occupied the land or had not claimed it as here during the twenty years was competent, and on this question of adverse possession we think the defendant might show under what claim plaintiff entered it, and to what boundary the original possession extended, and if she entered under a deed the deed would be evidence of the extent of the possession claimed under it, and in this case the plaintiff in her testimony says she was not in possession of the whole of lots No. 6 and 7 of said fractional block 30, that she now resides on the north west quarter of said block, that her husband Philipi bought said place in the year 1858 and that she is his widow and the owner of the land at the present time. That ever since her husband bought said land an old fence built by one Ebinger, a former owner of said land, has stood between the land claimed by plaintiff and defendant in this action, and that she claimed all the land on the north side of said old fence and had been in fact in possession of the same since the said purchase by her husband. This testimony refers to the purchase of this land from Ebinger and as that purchase was by deed the possession taken under the deed would only extend to the boundaries named in the deed, and if Ebinger had fenced in land not included in the deed such land would not pass by the deed, and such deed would be evidence of the original extent of his possession under it and was proper evidence in this case to show what land John Phillipi took possession of. If he afterwards or immediately took possession of other land that could be proved by acts of possession on the land itself and not by acts of possession under the deeds which excludes it.

To be more explicit she claims that her husband purchased this land of Ebinger and that this fence was its boundary, this purchase being by deed which describes the land as the northwest quarter of block 30. The fence is not a monument, and whether or not it was on the boundary must be determined by the deed, and the formal [illegible] and if the strip of land in controversy has been held by adverse possession she must have used and occupied it otherwise than under the deed for which we settle her claim under the deed its extent must be determined by the deed, and when a person enters under a deed he will be presumed to hold under it and to the boundaries fixed in it until the contrary is shown, as is said in Tappen vs Tappen 11 Foster 41. "A party entering on land under color of title is presumed to enter and occupy according to his title." See also Mearns vs Wells 12 Met p 358; Wilson vs Williams 52 Miss page 487.

For the reason assigned we think the judgment of the circuit court should be reversed and a new trial ordered.

R Williams, Appellant, vs H. Ackerman, Respondent

SYLLABUS.

When A leases of W a store under a verbal lease for three years and enters into possession and pays rent, such tenancy becomes a tenancy from year to year and can only be obtained by notice from one party to the other.

STATEMENT OF THE CASE.

This is an appeal from the decision of the Circuit court of Multnomah county upon the following facts as stipulated. The respondent (Ackerman) occupied the north half of lot No. 2 in block 1 Portland under a parol lease from appellant Williams for a term of three years. The original lease was made December 1st, 1876, with the firm of Ackerman & Co. Respondent was the successor of said firm occupying the premises under the same lease from January 1, 1877. A written lease had been prepared and presented to and retained by the lessees but never executed, though they took possession by virtue thereof. Respondent so occupied said premises until February 6, 1878, with the consent of appellant and paid appellant the rent up to that time. On that day respondent vacated the premises and sent the key to appellant, who refused to receive it, and it remained in the possession of the respondent until the 22nd day of March 1878, when the appellant proposed to receive the premises from that day and the respondent without remark delivered the key to appellant. The monthly rental was $[illegible]. No notice either verbal or written had been given by either party to the other. The action was commenced by appellant in the County court for the rent occurring from Feb'y 6 to March [illegible], in which court appellant recovered judgment for the sum of $158.3[illegible]. The respondent appealed from this judgment to the Circuit court. The latter court, the judge having heard the case upon a written stipulation and without the intervention of a jury, found for respondent. From that decision this appeal is taken.

OPINION BY BOISE, J.

From this statement of facts it appears that Ackerman & Co. entered the premises in question under a parol agreement to lease the same for three years and being so in possession delivered [illegible] to the defendant who [illegible] successors under the same right. We think it under the authorities of [illegible] is [illegible] a tenancy from year to year [illegible] [illegible]

Eugene Guard: Mr. A. Powers, the mail carrier on the McKenzie route, had the misfortune to freeze his feet severely a few days ago. He was carrying the mail to the summit of the mountain on snow shoes and on arriving at the cabin on the summit found it covered with snow to so great a depth as to preclude him from entering. He was compelled to retrace his steps at once, and consequent upon the long exposure froze his feet. It is not expected that amputation will be necessary.

Three Salem boys became tired of the quiet of Piety Hill life last week, and packing up some blankets, ammunition a few days rations and equipping themselves with guns and knives went forth in quest of adventures. The novelty of this sort of thing wore off however in a few days and the truants returned remorseful and dirty to their grieving parents. When it is made a crime against law as it is a sin against morality, to circulate sensational and impure literature which fill young minds with false ideas and foolish longings, such nonsense will cease and much sorrow be avoided.

NEWS NOTES FROM THE SOUND.

[REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE OF THE OREGONIAN.]

Seattle, March 3, 1880.

The rush Skagitward still continues.

Loggers generally are hopeful of a prosperous season for 1880.

The Seattle coal company shipped 14,649 tons of coal to California during the month of February.

Messrs Hall & Paulson expect to have their new mill ready for the reception of the machinery by the 15th of the present month.

A new industry has been inaugurated at the Tulalip Indian reservation, viz the manufacture of shaved shingles. A large number of these are now being turned out there.

Mr Nichols, an old Montana miner who has just returned from the Skagit, states that there are over 200 men in the mines and considers the prospects excellent for good diggings.

The new vessel being built at Seabeck will be ready to launch about the first of July. She is intended to carry 1,400,000 feet of lumber, which will be the largest cargo ever taken from Puget Sound.

The Skagit trail contractors leave here to day for the head of navigation on the Skagit river, where they will commence work immediately. They expect to have the trail open in less than two months.

Messrs Lard & Lair will commence driving piles for the foundation of their new sash and door factory the first of next week on the site recently secured by them on Front street, adjoining the city ballast wharf.

A petition to the governor is being circulated by J. J. Moss asking for the pardon of his son John H. Moss, at present confined in the territorial penitentiary, for shooting Peterson in this county two years ago.

The Renton Talbot Coal Company have got in about 150 feet on their new tunnel. From the two old tunnels they are now taking out 100 tons of coal per day. As soon as the new [illegible] is opened work in the old tunnel will be abandoned.

The winter just closed may be set down as one of the most remarkable ever experienced on Puget Sound. From January [illegible] to the 9th inclusive 61 inches of snow fell, with several lighter falls since. The next greatest depth was in 1862, during which season [illegible] inches of snow fell.

A new paper called The Skagit News is about to be started here by parties from California, to be devoted to the dissemination of mining news. Should the mines prove a success it will be moved up to the head of navigation on the Skagit river. It will undoubtedly contribute much toward [illegible] the present excitement and the prospects [illegible] [illegible] the place [illegible] [illegible] This may be [illegible] enough, but in our opinion the [illegible] should be applied rather cautiously at least until it is positively demonstrated that the mines are all right.

The recent heavy slide on the railroad just [illegible] caused a peremptory [illegible] the dry bones of an old Indian [illegible] leaving a large number of [illegible] rudely constructed [illegible] [illegible] on the face of the [illegible] the caskets some [illegible] on the railroad a few days since [illegible] silver consisting of old [illegible] [illegible] In [illegible] days [illegible] many years ago [illegible] [illegible] that in one grave [illegible] after [illegible] was obtained [illegible] more in silver [illegible] was found. The Indians, according to an old superstition, always bury the valuables of a deceased Indian with the body.

A PLEA FOR A PROTECTIVE TARIFF

To the Editor of the Oregonian:

I have trusted to your editorial courtesy for the privilege of slightly reviewing in your columns our international trade relations, doing so with some hesitancy, as I am aware that the views which I entertain are decidedly at variance with that policy of unrestricted commercial exchange which you advocate as desirable to be substituted for that under which the country seems to be favorably progressing.

I wish to avoid dogmatic assertion or doubtful abstractions or political philosophy in presenting a line of national economy which, adopted in a moment of peril, has established its own proofs of its abiding wisdom in the immense multitude and variety of industrial fortresses scattered all over the land, which are the pride of the American people and the wonder and envy of foreign nations.

It was the broad glare of a dire necessity absolutely forced upon this nation by civil war which convinced the industrial masses that our immense volume of natural resources was of no avail without a national, self reliant power of domestic production which would render us independent of all the world. Differing as we do, I doubt not that you agree with me, that among the profound lessons of civil economy displayed in the great history of nations there is no principle more clearly defined as a necessity than that of independence and unqualified self reliance. It must be accepted then as the prerogative of the citizen to demand that all the practical forces of the nation shall be applied to whatever is essential to public safety or the comfort of the people, not only in times of peace, but that they shall be secured against all chance of embarrassment and peril in times of war.

There can be no reason to doubt the truth of the hackneyed maxim that: Labor is our inheritance, and our experience assures us that the rewards of our efforts are measured by our intelligence in directing and strengthening the powers of associated industry, and by our success in firmly establishing in our midst the liberal and domestic arts, in all their diversity. I say confidently diversity, as history points out no successful nation whose labor has been limited to one department of human industry.

The American people became associated under a republican form of government, as an inspiration of the spirit of progress, an advance of popular liberty against arbitrary power, associated, that mutual sagacity and strength might ensure not only liberty, but choice of pursuits to all men in the great warfare of life, associated that as a nation we might gather in supreme power for our own benefit the unlimited resources of this new world.

Since the first framing of federal laws adjusting our international relations there has been a class of citizens who have professed to believe that the American people would be more prosperous with unrestricted "free trade." We are not justified in doubting that many men are honest in maintaining these convictions. Careful observers of men and their acts find in all departments of industrial and political life that many men fix their standard of faith in accordance with local or personal interest, rarely regarding the general interests of society. Under his kind of patriotism, it is not strange, importing as we do, under what one of your free trade correspondents designates the "villainous heresy" of a protective tariff, over $500,000,000 worth of foreign commodities annually, that foreign or domestic capital employed in producing, importing and selling the same, should oppose any obstructions even national protection to the enjoyment, for their special benefit, such a wonderful market upon American soil. It is not strange that foreign capital, or the men, or interest it employs should oppose any protective influence which favored American labor, American genius, or American capital in seeking the employment thereof, by the production of a like class of commodities within the shadow of American homes. It is not strange that to ensure federal legislation favorable to these special interests those immediately interested should seek to spread before the American public every kind of specious argument, and appeal to every local or party prejudice which would favor this anti patriotic policy of "free trade."

Political parties for sake of success have repeatedly shown themselves willing to lay aside important public principles, seeking success by the adoption of most doubtful issues, if thereby they might gain numerical strength and supremacy.

Our national enemies have sneeringly pointed to this tendency, as in time ending democratic government.

As a democratic people, emerging by revolution from the furnace of aristocratic power, it was confidently expected that political equality would correct all social evils, but the old puritanic prejudices against wealth and its power for evil gradually arrayed the masses against all accumulations of this active enemy with individuals or in corporate hands. No matter how liberally managed, many men seeming to view it as an enemy to be especially dreaded in society. This unguarded unwise policy, arraying the masses against capital and the prejudices of ignorance, poverty and discontent against the associations of wealth employed in establishing works of public interest, such as manufactures, railways and like elements of national progress.

These short sighted prejudices became dogmas as they were adopted as party resources, and when yoked with free trade they became hand in hand established as dominant principles and were engrafted as popular watchwords upon the great seal of the democratic faith.

The deplorable condition of the country induced by the adoption of these unsound principles of economy, especially the result of free trade, is patent in our history. Overmatched and thoroughly discouraged by foreign competition in every line of our industries, wages too low to afford adequate support to workingmen, was it strange that gloom filled the public mind?

The evils of this policy culminated in 1824, when congress gave relief in the first bill that had any claim to protective policy. This bill and the one which followed in 1828 completely changed the condition of the nation. Capital sought investment, labor was well paid, manufactures multiplied with great rapidity, under the faith that they would be protected, our war debt was paid off.

Notwithstanding President Jackson in his message to congress had declared our prosperity unequalled in any portion of the world, yet a complete change of policy was forced by free trade influence upon the country by the congress of 1834, and in 1837 the bottom [illegible] President Tyler was unable [illegible] [illegible] in the United States treasury [illegible] to draw his salary declared in his annual message of 1842 his regret that the government was unable to [illegible]

AN IMPORTANT DECISION

The Matter of U. S. Transportation on Land Grant Railroads

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.

Washington, March 9.—The court of claims rendered a decision to day in the case of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad [Co.] against the United States, in which claimant seeks to recover compensation for transportation services rendered by it to the United States in 1875 and 1876. These services at the ordinary tariff rates charged the public would be worth $170,843. The court holds, however, that claimant is entitled to recover for transportation done for the United States over its land grant road from March [illegible] 1875 only 50 per cent of the ordinary tariff rates charged the public, viz: the sum of $[illegible], which less $79,798 already paid by the government on account thereof leaves still [illegible]. The opinion of the court as to the percentage of the claim which the road is entitled to recover is decisive of twelve or fifteen other pending cases brought by land grant railroads, involving between half a million and one million dollars.

A COLONY FOR WASHINGTON TERRITORY

One Hundred Persons Getting Ready to Start from Kansas

Kansas papers contain an advertisement of which the following is a copy:

HO FOR WASHINGTON TERRITORY!

A colony has been organized and incorporated under the law of the state of Kansas for the purpose of emigrating to Washington territory. Will leave Topeka, Kansas, by overland about April 1st, 1880. A copy of the constitution and by laws will be sent free to any person who is desirous of joining the colony. Address at Topeka, Kansas.

J. J. BROWNE, Secretary.

M. A. McPHERSON, President.

A letter from the secretary to Mr. J. M. Williamson, who is well known as a former resident of Portland and who has now returned here after a stay of two years in Kansas, where he took great interest in giving information about Oregon and Washington, and to whose efforts the organization of this colony are largely due, states that the project will certainly be carried out. By the 16th of February, the day on which the letter was written, sixty were enrolled for the colony and others were greatly interested. Specimens of wheat and copies of The Oregonian sent by Mr. Williamson attracted great attention. In several counties of Kansas effort is making to interest people in Oregon and Washington, and there is great promise of success. A Topeka paper says:

It will probably interest our readers to learn something more concerning the place of the Washington territory colony. Its board of directors is composed of earnest, determined men, all of whom intend going with the colony and make their future homes wherever it may locate. Part of the colony will start overland about the 1st of April, the second probably by rail in July following. Each passenger overland may enter a pool for purchasing provisions for himself and family in quantity before starting, and they will be shipped to convenient points along the route. It will require fully three months for the trip overland. The nearest point on the Union Pacific railroad is 600 miles from the location decided upon.

The location will be near the center of the territory, just east of the Cascade mountain range on the Columbia river. The land is subject to homestead, pre-emption and timber culture entry, 160 acres to each claim. At the meeting Monday evening gentlemen who had resided in Washington territory gave glowing descriptions of the country. Timber is in great abundance, chiefly fir, hemlock and cedar, the trees growing to immense size.

BABY DIMPLE'S HOUSE

Block upon block, block upon block.
Wait, baby, wait till the time to knock;
Hush, Baby Dimple, still as a mouse!
This is the way to build a house.

What shall it be—a church so high,
With a steeple up to the very sky?
First we will build a good thick wall—
Still, baby, still! or you'll spoil it all.
Block upon block till all is complete.
That is the way to build, my sweet.

Here is the door, and here is the steeple,
Within are the preacher and all the people,
Now, baby, now, for the final shock!
Ah! that was only a tiny knock.
Once again, Dimple—one, two, three!
Over it goes in your merry glee!
And that is the end of the church and the steeple,
But where are the preacher and all the people?

Garcelon Once More.

AUGUSTA, March 9.—Garcelon and his ex-council failing to respond to invitation to appear before the bribery investigating committee, were summoned to do so [illegible].

Systematic Robbery.

NEW YORK, March 8.—David Roberts, for the past sixteen years chief cutter for H. B. Claflin & Co., was arrested to-night and confessed having robbed his employers of silks valued at $40,000. The robberies have been going on for a series of years. $10,000 worth of the stolen property has been recovered.

Insane Asylum Burned.

PAOLA, Ks., March 9.—The insane asylum at Osawatomie, containing 300 inmates, has been totally destroyed by fire; loss, $40,000. The inmates are provided for. No loss of life.

The Virginia Debt Question to be Submitted to the People.

RICHMOND, March 9.—The senate to-night, by a vote of 24 to 14, adopted a joint resolution providing that the readjusters' debt bill passed to-day, and the bill known as the Ross-Hamilton substitute, which was rejected by the house a few days ago, shall be submitted to the people in November next for a vote thereon, in order to decide which of the two measures is most acceptable.

Suicide.

ROCHESTER, March 9.—Robert Jarard, a lawyer, who while intoxicated shot a man named Allen on Saturday night, hanged himself to-day.

A Remarkable Case.

CINCINNATI, March 9.—Last night J. W. Parry, a member of the Kentucky legislature, registered at Hubb's Hotel for separate rooms for himself and Miss Adams. By the early train this morning Miss Adams left for Van Wert, Ohio, when it was found that she had given birth to a child, which had been wrapped in a sheet and dropped from a second story window into an area. It was taken to a hospital and shows no signs of the fall. Miss Adams was arrested near Dayton and Parry arrested here. He claims to have known nothing of Miss Adams' condition. She has lived in his family since infancy and was on the way to visit friends at Van Wert. The case is exciting interest on account of Parry's prominence, the wonderful escape of the babe from death and the fact that the mother is only 16 years old.

WASHINGTON CITY

Pacific Coast Measures.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—In the senate to-day Slater presented a memorial of officials of Oregon praying for an appropriation for a harbor at Yaquina Bay and setting forth great commercial advantages likely to result therefrom. The memorial was read at length and referred.

Farley presented a memorial of the legislature of California, asking an appropriation of $250,000 for the protection of rivers from impediments by mining debris; referred.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

The British Political Drift.

LONDON, March 9.—It seems to be admitted on all sides that the home rulers will win some seats in Ireland and that the government will lose several in Ireland and Scotland. It remains for English constituencies to decide whether conservatives are to have a majority which will bear down such liberals and Irish home rulers. What is chiefly to be feared is an equal balance of power as would leave both constitutional parties dependent on the home rule vote.

The Coming British Election.

LONDON, March 9.—In the house of commons to-day the chancellor of the exchequer said that writs for a new election will probably be issued on the 24th inst., the day after the house of commons separates.

British Navy Estimates.

In the house of commons to-night the navy estimates were considered. A vote of 44,600 officers and men for the navy was agreed to. A vote of £5,000,000 on account of civil service estimates was granted.

Wreck of an Indian Steamer.

LONDON, March 9.—The steamer Travancore, with homeward Indian mail, was wrecked at Otranto. The crew, passengers and mails were saved.

Ferry's Educational Bill Fails in the Senate.

PARIS, March 9.—The senate, 148 to 129, rejected clause 7 of Jules Ferry's educational bill. During the debate De Freycinet, president of the council, declared that if the clause should be rejected the executive would be obliged to enforce against the Jesuits much harsher laws already existing. Dufaure, republican, opposed the clause, describing the bill as despotic and calculated to humiliate religion and violate liberty.

NEW BRUNSWICK

Wreck on the Northern Coast—Hardships of the Disaster

ST. JOHN, March 9.—The Elbana was driven ashore last night and is a total wreck. She was driven close under a frowning precipice. Boats were lowered only to be swept away, and all hands had to take to the rigging. Five unfortunately got into the mizzen rigging while the remainder lashed themselves in the forward rigging. After bumping on the rocks for some time the vessel suddenly turned over on her broadside and all in the mizzen rigging were drowned. Shortly after, the master, Capt. Barry, put on a life preserver and attempted to swim ashore for the purpose of taking a line, but he never reached land. The first mate, named Bissell, fell over the jibboom and was drowned before the eyes of his comrades. The remainder of the crew clung to the wreck till the storm subsided and the tide had fallen, and then got ashore and crawled on their hands and knees up the precipitous cliff. Although thoroughly exhausted they had to walk a mile and a half through the woods to reach a habitation. Fortunately the weather was not very cold and they were only slightly frost bitten.

Parnell and Dillon Enthusiastically Received at Montreal

MONTREAL, March 9.—Parnell and Dillon arrived last night and when Parnell stepped from the train he was enthusiastically received with vociferous cheering from an immense crowd which thronged the depot. He was then with Dillon placed in a splendidly equipped sleigh drawn by four white horses and escorted to St. Lawrence Hall Hotel by a large torch light procession consisting of various Catholic societies. On reaching McGill street the crowd unharnessed the horses, attached ropes to the sleigh and drew it the remainder of the distance amidst the cheers of the multitude who lined the thoroughfares. In the procession there were several transparencies with such mottoes as "Home Rule for Ireland," "Fixity of Tenure," etc. There were fully 5000 torch bearers in the procession. At the hotel Parnell met with a perfect ovation.

Progress of the "Citizens' Union" Movement—Other Views of the Subject

SAN FRANCISCO, March 9.—The manifesto of the citizens' protective union, published this morning, seems to be received with much satisfaction in business circles and the general expression is that it is time something of the kind should be done. The following pledge is being circulated and is receiving numerous signatures:

> City Protective Union: We the undersigned hereby pledge ourselves to assist in all lawful ways the authorities in the preservation of public peace and the maintenance of order and protection of lives and property of our fellow citizens and for these purposes we associate ourselves together.

These rolls are not opened in public places but are taken around by parties designated for that purpose, about one hundred and fifty of whom are engaged in the work, and signatures are sought among those only who are known to be in sympathy with the organization and its purposes. What view the workingmen take of the matter has not been ascertained, but Kearney was seen this morning packing a brand new Winchester rifle with its adjuncts, and in reply to a question said it was intended for a mantle ornament.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 9.—During the day about 150 men have been engaged in obtaining signatures to the roll of the Citizens Protective Union with decided success. To a very considerable extent the project finds favor with the business classes, though many question the necessity or wisdom of such a movement. The Bulletin this evening treats the subject editorially under the heading of "Organizing Prosperity," taking ground that the organization means just what it says, viz: Preservation of public peace, protection of life and property, restoration of confidence in the security of life and property from all violence, and restoration of legitimate commerce, industries and business of the people by peaceful methods within the law, and approves the undertaking as tending to act as a safeguard against both mob violence and vicious legislation. It may be said that there are many who do not accept the Bulletin's view of the real intent of the organization, but assume that something of a more radical nature is contemplated, hinting at ordering incendiary agitators out of the city or even more pronounced measures. It is difficult to learn anything more regarding the plans of the union than is set forth in its manifesto. If there are any secrets among the promoters they are well kept.

The Post this evening publishes the following brief reference to the subject:

> We have a strong municipal and state government quite able and willing to suppress any unlawful assemblage whether its headquarters are at the sand lot or in secret chambers.

The workingmen have not yet been heard from.

Kearney on the Situation—He Proposes to Keep up the Agitation, Etc.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 9.—Kearney was interviewed to-night on the subject of the vigilance committee and kindred matters. He is defiant and evidently looks on the present excitement as furnishing him with fresh weapons. He says that the workingmen are peaceable and law abiding; that the city is entirely safe in their hands, and that it is only Chinese employers and stock gamblers who threaten to make any trouble. He affects to treat the formation of a vigilance committee with contempt and to believe that they will not dare to molest him, but it is noticeable that he has made a perfect arsenal of his residence. This morning he bought a Winchester repeating rifle which he keeps in his sleeping room, and both his brothers who live with him are provided with revolvers and shot guns. Kearney declares his intention of keeping up the agitation and swears that if violence is used to stop him speedy and terrible vengeance will be taken. As a counter to the action of the vigilantes he proposes to hold all the employers of Chinese labor responsible for their action, and declares his intention of making a list of two hundred names of whoever he has reason to suspect of being concerned in it and reading it at the sand lots. Every one of those men who do not clear themselves of the suspicion that they are prime movers will be denounced as assassins and marked for retribution.

Kearney made a brief speech at a large meeting at Irish American hall this evening in which he took substantially the above ground and attacked bitterly the men who are supposed to be prominent in the vigilante movement. The crowd applauded his threats vociferously.

At the Oakland city election yesterday there were two tickets in the field—citizens and workingmen's. The former made a clean sweep by majorities ranging from 200 to 1400.

Destructive Fire at Oakland

Fire was discovered in the Grand Central Hotel, Oakland, at about 2 o'clock this morning. The wind was blowing a gale and the flames had made great progress before the fire department arrived. All around the hotel were situated other buildings, among which the Webster House with five others and the Grand Central were destroyed. The losses are as follows: Grand Central, $[illegible]0,000, partially insured; Webster House, $[illegible]0,000, uninsured. The other losses amount to $10,000. The Grand Central was a wooden structure 60x300 feet, four stories, with mansard roof, and was built about seven years ago by Michael Reese, the deceased millionaire.

The fire in the Grand Central broke out in the rear of the dining room near the center of the building. It burned slowly at first and the occupants of the house—about 50 in number—had time to arouse and save most of their personal effects, though there was necessarily much confusion. There was no panic, and eye witnesses say that it was the grandest scene of the kind they ever witnessed. The guests were busy packing up their property while many stood about the halls watching the slow progress of the flames. After the fire had fairly gained access to the open air destruction was rapid owing to the high wind. Burning brands carried by the gale set several fires at a distance leeward of the hotel. Most of the furniture on the first and second floors was saved.

A BRITISH MANIFESTO

Lord Beaconsfield to the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

LONDON, March 9.—Lord Beaconsfield has sent the following manifesto to the lord lieutenant of Ireland:

> Measures respecting the state of Ireland are about to be submitted for royal assent. The arts of agitators have been defeated by liberals and prudent measures which parliament almost unanimously sanctioned. During the six years of the present administration improvement of Ireland has much occupied the care of the ministry, and they may remember with satisfaction that they have solved one of the most difficult problems connected with its government and people by establishing a system of public education open to all classes and creeds. Nevertheless a danger in its ultimate results scarcely less disastrous than pestilence and famine distracts the country. A portion of its population is attempting to sever the constitutional tie which unites it to Great Britain. The strength of this nation depends [illegible]. The immediate dissolution of parliament will afford opportunity for the nation to decide upon a course which will materially influence its future fortunes. The power of Europe will largely depend upon the verdict of the country.

DESTRUCTIVE STORM.

Willows, Cal., and its Vicinity Devastated—List of the Losses

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WILLOWS, March 9.—A typhoon which prevailed here yesterday was very destructive to property as far as heard from. The wind storm increased in violence rapidly after 8 o'clock and by 11 o'clock it was blowing a terrific gale which continued until sundown, but between 10 A. M. and 3 P. M. our people were panic stricken and hardly knew what to do or where to go for safety. The Methodist church building was moved 10 or 12 inches and careened over until its foundation walls were crushing, and the whole building materially damaged. The damage is variously estimated at from $400 to $800. The Colusa Lumber Company's warehouse was badly wrecked; damage $300 or $400. Marshall's stable on Front street was blown down and a small building on the north side wrecked; damage $300. When the wind had reached its height the front fire wall of the Central hotel, about fifty feet in length and three feet in height, fell and smashed the porch and verandah the whole length of the building; damage $400. The northeast corner of Jones & Co.'s brick warehouse for a distance of 60 or 80 feet was blown down, which gave the wind a chance to unroof the whole building; damage $1000. The north end of the immense warehouse of Harden Bros. at Maxwell was blown down and the roof badly wrecked; damage $400. The barn of J. S. Deverpeck, two miles from Willows, was completely wrecked; loss $400. Signs, porches, outhouses and loose lumber were strewn in every direction, entailing a great loss, but as far as could be ascertained no lives were lost, although the loss of property must be immense.

STEAMBOAT SUNK AT SEATTLE.

The "Fanny Lake" Sinks at her Wharf—One Man Drowned

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

SEATTLE, March 9.—The steamer Fanny Lake, with a full load of freight for Nooksack and way ports, sank at Mill street dock at 3 o'clock this morning. She had been made fast during the previous day to the fender piles of the wharf, and as the tide receded her lines slipped down, and as it rose again during the night they held her fast, causing her to list over toward the wharf and ultimately to fill with water. Several passengers and the crew who were asleep at the time had no warning of the approaching catastrophe until the water flooded their rooms, several of them escaping in their night clothes. Peter Sinclair, deck hand, was missing, and upon hauling the steamer out this afternoon was found dead in his bunk, having been drowned while asleep. The freight is all in a damaged condition.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY

The Murdered Man Identified

WALLA WALLA, March 9.—The murdered man is supposed to be Sonnet, who arrived here from Council Bluffs, Iowa, last October. He deposited money in the First National bank. He was recognized by two men who came across with him in an emigrant car. The theory is that he was taken out to where he was murdered on the excuse to be shown land which he was desirous of purchasing. Everything possible was done to him to destroy his identity, even to cutting off his beard. The river where he was found is twenty miles from this city and is right on the old Wallula road. He must have been killed close to where he was found, for the river is too low to have carried him any distance. No arrests have been made yet, but Sheriff Thompson is hard at work.

SUPREME COURT DECISIONS.

Syllabus and Full Text of Decision in the Case of Appolonia Phillippi, Respondent, vs Ananias Thompson, Appellant, appeal from Multnomah County

SYLLABUS

1. In an action of ejectment where the defendant merely traverses the allegations in the complaint and does not set up title in herself or another, the defendant will be confined in his testimony to such facts only as tend to show the weakness of the plaintiff's title.

2. And where the plaintiff in his evidence produces a confirmatory deed to establish his title, in which is recited other deeds by their dates through which plaintiff derives title, it is competent for defendant to offer in evidence and produce these deeds recited to show the boundaries of the land claimed by the plaintiff.

3. A party entering land under the color of title is presumed to enter and occupy according to his title.

STATEMENT OF THE CASE.

This is a simple suit in ejectment. Plaintiff in her complaint alleges that she is the owner in fee simple and entitled to the real estate described in the complaint and asks for the possession of the same.

The defendant answers denying the allegations of the complaint.

At the June term 1879 of the circuit court this cause was tried upon the issues thus joined and the jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for a portion of the premises claimed in the complaint.

A motion for a new trial was overruled by the court, and on the —— day of ——— 1879 judgment was rendered in accordance with the verdict in favor of the plaintiff and for her costs taxed at $40 [illegible], from which judgment this appeal is taken.

On the trial plaintiff offered in evidence the United States patent to the Couch claim, which assigns the south half of the claim to Caroline Couch. It is also shown the property in controversy is included in the south half of said claim. Plaintiff also introduced in evidence a confirmatory deed from the widow and heirs in favor of Couch to the plaintiff, dated November 12, 1872, conveying lots 6 and 7 in fractional block 30 in Couch's addition. Plaintiff further offered in evidence testimony showing that she and her husband, from whom she had derived title, had since the year 1868 claimed possession and had been in actual possession of all that portion of said lots 6 and 7 that lies north of an old fence which was constructed by one Ebinger prior to 1868.

Defendant then moved for a non suit, which motion was overruled.

Defendant then offered to introduce in evidence certain deeds for the purpose of showing that plaintiff held the land in dispute under a paper title in which the same was described by definite boundaries, the introduction of which was disallowed.

Defendant also offered to introduce in evidence certain deeds to the defendant and to persons from whom he derives title for the purpose of showing the boundary line between the lands of plaintiff and defendant, the introduction of which was also disallowed by the court.

Defendant asked that the following instruction be given to the jury: That if the possession of the land under dispute was originally taken under a paper title, then the presumption of law is that they hold according to the description in their deeds; this presumption will prevail until it is overcome by proof of a change in the manner of holding; which instruction the court refused to give upon the ground that there was no testimony on that point.

The errors assigned in defendant's notice of appeal are as follows:

First—The court erred in admitting the confirmatory deed from widow and heirs at law of J. H. Couch to the plaintiff for lots No. 6 and 7 in fractional block No. 30, Couch's addition, etc., dated Nov 1[illegible], 18[illegible]2, exhibit A of the bill of exceptions.

Second—The court erred in not allowing the defendant's motion for a nonsuit.

Third—The court erred in not admitting the deeds offered by defendant to prove that plaintiff held the land in dispute under a paper title in which the land was described with certain specific boundaries.

Fourth—The court erred in not admitting in evidence the deeds offered by the defendant for the purpose of showing the true boundary line between the lands of plaintiff and defendant.

Fifth—The court erred in not giving to the jury the instructions presented by the defendant and fully set forth in his bill of exceptions.

Sixth—The court erred in rendering judgment against the defendant.

OPINION BY BOISE

In this case it was incumbent on the plaintiff to show that she had a legal estate in the property and a present right to the possession. (See statute p 175, sec 3 4.)

This she attempted to do, first by producing the patent of Mrs. Couch, the original pre-emptor, and a confirmatory deed from her to plaintiff, to which we see no objection. Second, by producing evidence tending to prove that she and those under whom she claimed had been in adverse possession for twenty years, and we think the evidence was sufficient to make a prima facie case in her favor, and therefore the motion for a non suit was properly refused.

The next error assigned is that the court erred in not admitting the deeds offered by defendant to prove that defendant held the land in dispute under a paper title in which the land was described by certain specific boundaries.

The defendant having simply denied the title and right to possession of the defendant and not having plead in his answer either that he was the owner or that the title was in a third person, the evidence which the plaintiff could produce was restricted to a very narrow issue, and very much more limited than in any action of ejectment at common law, for which our statute has provided. See page 179, section 316.

The defendant shall not be allowed to give in evidence any estate in himself or another in the property, etc., unless the same be pleaded in his answer. At common law under the general issue (which is the issue in this case) the defendant could prove title in himself or another, so that most of the rules of law concerning evidence for the defence in ejectment which have been established and which are found in works on evidence and ejectment are not applicable under our statute. We think however the defendant was entitled to offer any evidence which had a tendency to weaken the claim of title under which the plaintiff claimed, or as a plaintiff must make out a prima facie case the defendant might show flaws in that title. The confirmatory deed of Mrs. Couch recites that this deed was to confirm a legal or equitable title which the plaintiff held in possession by mesne conveyances from R. B. Wilson by deed or instrument in writing dated March 1, 1854, and recorded in the book of records transferred from Washington county, page 8[illegible]. The defendant offered these mesne conveyances to show that plaintiff's title and right of possession under them was confined to the north west quarter of said block 30, and claimed that the boundaries of the northwest quarter differed from the boundaries of the land contained in lots 6 and 7 in block 30, which was the land described in the confirmatory deed. These deeds offered in evidence tended to show that Mrs. Couch, the preemptor, had sold all of block 30 to R. B. Wilson March 1st, 1854, and that plaintiff prior to the confirmatory deed had acquired a proper title to the northwest quarter of block 30. And as Mrs. Couch had in 1854 parted with all her title to block 30, her confirmatory deed gave nothing to plaintiff, that is provided the deed of March 1, 1854 was in proper form, for Mrs. Couch and her heirs could not grant to plaintiff land she did not own by reason of its having been before conveyed. And we must presume the deeds were in proper form, for no objection was made to their form, the objection being only to their materiality and relevancy as evidence. We think also that these deeds might be material to limit and determine the boundaries of the land the plaintiff took under her paper title which she had offered in evidence, even if they only conveyed in equity, for these deeds constituted the paper title on which she entered the premises and were the consideration of the confirmatory deed, and relied on to recover, for we must suppose that she relied on her paper title as well as on her evidence of possession, as both the evidence of the paper title and possession were submitted to the jury to support her right to recover. These deeds had a tendency to show that her right under them was only to the northwest quarter of block 30, and did explain and limit the land to be conveyed to the confirmatory deed, for when a confirmatory deed refers to the deed which it is intended to confirm, and if there is a difference in description between the confirmatory deed and the deed to be confirmed, the description in the latter should prevail, for the reason that it describes the land which was originally sold and for which the consideration was paid, unless it appears that the confirmatory deed was to correct an error in description, which is not the case here, the confirmatory deed being to remedy errors of form or informalities. The evidence tended only to show to the jury the boundaries of the plaintiff's land and should have been admitted for that purpose, and she having by the recital in her confirmatory deed made them a part of her muniments of title could not properly refuse to be controlled by their contents. We think therefore that there was error in not allowing the deeds to be given in evidence.

It is claimed that the respondent having shown possession of twenty years raised a presumption of a written conveyance of the land in dispute. Whether the evidence of this [illegible] showed an adverse possession for twenty years on the strip of land in dispute, which was less than one foot in width and on the boundary of the plaintiff's land, was a question for the jury, and any evidence by the defendant tending to show that the plaintiff had not occupied the land or had not claimed it as hers during the twenty years was competent, and on this question of adverse possession we think the defendant might show under what claim plaintiff entered it and to what boundary the original possession extended, and if she entered under a deed the deed would be evidence of the extent of the possession claimed under it; and in this case the plaintiff in her testimony says she was not in possession of the whole of lots No 6 and 7 of said fractional block 30, that she now resides on the north west quarter of said block, that her husband Phillippi bought said place in the year 1868, and that she is his widow and the owner of the land at the present time. That ever since her husband bought said land an old fence built by one Ebinger, a former owner of said land, has stood between the land claimed by plaintiff and defendant in this action, and that she claimed all the land on the north side of said old fence and had been in fact in possession of the same since the said purchase by her husband. This testimony refers to the purchase of his land from Ebinger, and as that purchase was by deed the possession taken under the deed would be extended to the boundaries named in the deed, and if Ebinger had placed in [illegible] the land [illegible] possession of. If [illegible] afterwards or immediately took possession of other land, that could be proved by acts of possession on the land itself and not by acts of possession under the deeds which excludes it.

To be more explicit, she claims that her husband purchased the land of Ebinger and that this fence was its boundary, this purchase being by legal writing describing the land as the northwest quarter of block 30. The fence is not a monument, and whether or not it was on the boundary [illegible] determined by the deed [illegible]. [illegible] in Tappan vs Tappan, 11 Foster 41. A party entering land under color of title is presumed to enter and occupy according to his title. See also Meares vs Wells, 1 Met. p 356; Wilson vs Williams, 5 Miss. page 487.

For the reason assigned we think the judgment of the circuit court should be reversed and a new trial ordered.

R. Williams, appellant, vs H. Ackerman, Respondent

SYLLABUS

Where A leases of W a store under a verbal lease for three years and enters into possession and pays rent, such tenancy becomes a tenancy from year to year, and can only be [illegible] by notice from one party to the other.

STATEMENT OF THE [illegible]

This is an appeal from the decision of the Circuit court of Multnomah county upon the following facts as stipulated: The respondent Ackerman occupied the north half of lot No 2 in [illegible] under a parol lease from appellant Williams for a term of three years. The original lease was made December 1st, 18[illegible]6, with the firm of Ackerman & Co. Respondent was the successor of said firm, occupying the premises under the same lease from January 1, 1877. A written lease had been prepared and presented to and retained by the lessees, but never executed, though they took possession by virtue thereof. Respondent so occupied said premises until February 6, 1878, with the consent of appellant, and paid up [illegible] to that time. [illegible] the possession of the respondent until the [illegible] day of March 1878, when the appellant [illegible] the premises [illegible]. [illegible] of $156 3[illegible]. The respondent appealed from the judgment to the Circuit court. The latter court, the judge having heard the case upon an agreed stipulation and without the intervention of a jury, found for respondent. From that decision this appeal is taken.

OPINION BY BOISE.

From this statement of facts it appears that Ackerman & Co. entered the premises in question under a parol agreement to lease the same for three years, and being so in possession [illegible] the defendant [illegible] successors under the same right. [illegible] authorities of Grant vs Clark [illegible] became a tenancy from year to year [illegible]. [illegible] statement of the [illegible] in Orego[illegible].

The judgment of the circuit court will be reversed [illegible] statement of facts.

Salem proposes to contribute to the Irish famine fund. An entertainment will be given on the night of the 17th inst. for that purpose and the city will be canvassed for subscriptions.

A Eugene paper says: Parties from Portland have been in town this week purchasing horses to work on the construction of the railroad from The Dalles to Walla Walla. They secured a car load at an average price of about $100.

Hugh McNary, of Salem, 12 years old, was attacked by a dog a few days ago, which attempted to catch him by the throat. The arm with which the little fellow shielded his throat was frightfully torn by the vicious brute before help arrived.

The street commissioner of Salem proposes that the sidewalks of that city shall be fixed up. All persons having defective sidewalks will be given six days' notice, and if they are not repaired within that time the city will fix them at the owner's expense.

The police of Salem raided an opium den on Monday and arrested the proprietor, a Chinaman, and one youth who was engaged in the deadly dissipation. The proprietor was sentenced to work on the streets eighteen days, to be shackled with ball and chain, and to a diet for that time of bread and water.

The following persons were baptized on the 2d inst. in Spring creek, near McMinnville, by Rev. G. J. Burchett of the Baptist Church: Miss Nettie Brown, Orin Skinner, Elden Hurst, Manuel Carey, Wayland Hunsaker, Joseph Henshaw, Miss Lucy Davis, Miss Emma Wright, Miss Annie Young and Willie Conner.

Statistics of the Eugene school district: Receipts, $6,684 95; disbursements, $6,584 95; number legal voters in district, 213; number of males between the ages of 4 and 20, 276; females, 293; total number drawing school money in district, 569; number enrolled in public school, 350. Eugene Guard: Mr. Al. Flowers, the mail carrier on the McKenzie route, had the misfortune to freeze his feet severely a few days ago. He was carrying the mail to the summit of the mountain on snow shoes, and on arriving at the cabin on the summit found it covered with snow to so great a depth as to preclude him from entering. He was compelled to retrace his steps at once, and consequent upon the long exposure froze his feet. It is not expected that amputation will be necessary.

Three Salem boys became tired of the quiet of Piety Hill life last week, and packing up some blankets, ammunition, a few days rations and equipping themselves with guns and knives, went forth in quest of adventures. The novelty of this sort of thing wore off however in a few days and the truants returned remorseful and dirty to their grieving parents. When it is made a crime against law, as it is a sin against morality, to circulate sensational and impure literature which fills young minds with false ideas and foolish longings, such nonsense will cease and much sorrow be avoided.

NEWS NOTES FROM THE SOUND.

[BY OUR CORRESPONDENCE OF THE OREGONIAN.]

SEATTLE, March 3, 1880.

The rush Skagitward still continues.

Loggers generally are hopeful of a prosperous season for 1880.

The Seattle coal company shipped 14,640 tons of coal to California during the month of February.

Messrs. Hall & Paulson expect to have their new mill ready for the reception of the machinery by the 15th of the present month.

A new industry has been inaugurated at the Tulalip Indian reservation, viz: the manufacture of shaved shingles. A large number of these are now being turned out there.

Mr. Nichols, an old Montana miner who has just returned from the Skagit, states that there are over [illegible]00 men in the mines and considers the prospects excellent for good diggings.

The new vessel being built at Seabeck will be ready to launch about the first of July. She is intended to carry 1,400,000 feet of lumber, which will be the largest cargo ever taken from Puget Sound.

The Skagit trail contractors leave here to-day for the head of navigation on the Skagit river, where they will commence work immediately. They expect to have the trail open in less than two months.

Messrs. Lard & Lair will commence driving piles for the foundation of their new sash and door factory the first of next week, on the site recently secured by them on Front street adjoining the city ballast wharf.

A petition to the governor is being circulated by J. J. Moss asking for the pardon of his son, John H. Moss, at present confined in the territorial penitentiary for shooting [illegible] Peterson in this county two years ago.

The Renton Talbot Coal Company have gone in about 1[illegible]0 feet on their new tunnel. From the two old tunnels they are now taking out 1[illegible]0 tons of coal per day. As soon as the new one is [illegible] work in the old tunnels will be abandoned.

The winter just closed may be set down as one of the most remarkable ever experienced on Puget Sound. From January 5th to the 9th inclusive 61 inches of snow fell, with several light falls since. The next greatest depth was in 1862, during which season [illegible] inches of snow fell.

A new paper called The Skagit News is about to be started here by parties from Oregon, to be devoted to the dissemination of mining news. Should the mines prove a success it will be moved up to the head of navigation on the Skagit river. It will undoubtedly contribute much toward working up the present excitement and the prospects [illegible] the place [illegible] (This may be all well enough, but in our opinion the [illegible] should be applied rather cautiously, at least until it is positively demonstrated that the mines are all right.

The recent heavy slide on the railroad just above town caused a peremptory routing among the dry bones of an old Indian burying ground, leaving a large number of skeletons and rudely constructed log caskets exposed to view on the face of the bluff. In one of these caskets some Chinamen employed on the railroad a few days since found $40 in silver, consisting of old English coins obtained by the Indians, it is supposed, from the Hudson bay traders many years ago. This find was sufficient to excite the cupidity of the Chinamen, who have since unearthed nearly every grave on the bluff not already carried down by the slide, but with what success is not known further than that in one grave, shortly after the first $40 was obtained, $4 more in silver coin was found. The Indians, according to an old superstition, always bury the valuables of a deceased Indian with the body.

A PLEA FOR A PROTECTIVE TARIFF

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

I have trusted to your editorial courtesy for the privilege of slightly reviewing in your columns our international trade relations, doing so with some hesitancy, as I am aware that the views which I entertain are decidedly at variance with that policy of unrestricted commercial exchange which you advocate as desirable to be substituted for that under which the country seems to be favorably progressing.

I wish to avoid dogmatic assertions or doubtful abstractions or political philosophy in presenting a line of national economy which, adopted in a moment of peril, has established its own proofs of its abiding wisdom in the immense multitude and variety of industrial fortresses scattered all over the land, which are the pride of the American people and the wonder and envy of foreign nations.

It was the broad glare of a dire necessity, abusefully forced upon this nation by civil war, which convinced the industrial masses that our immense volume of natural resources was of no avail, without a national, self reliant power of domestic production which would render us independent of all the world. Differing as we do, I doubt not that you agree with me that among the profound lessons of civil economy, displayed in the great history of nations, there is no principle more clearly defined as a necessity than that of independence and unqualified self reliance. It must be accepted then as the prerogative of the citizen to demand that all the practical forces of the nation shall be applied to whatever is essential to public safety or the comfort of the people, not only in times of peace, but that they shall be secured against all chance of embarrassment and peril in times of war.

There can be no reason to doubt the truth of the hackneyed maxim that "Labor is our inheritance," and our experience assures us that the rewards of our efforts are measured by our intelligence in directing and strengthening the powers of associated industry, and by our success in firmly establishing, in our midst, the liberal and domestic arts in all their diversity. I say confidently diversity, as history points out no successful nation whose labor has been limited to one department of human industry.

The American people became associated under a republican form of government as an inspiration of the spirit of progress, an advance of popular liberty against arbitrary power, associated that mutual sagacity and strength might ensure not only liberty, but choice of pursuits to all men in the great warfare of life; associated that as a nation we might gather in supreme power for our own benefit the unlimited resources of this new world.

Since the first framing of federal laws adjusting our international relations there has been a class of citizens who have professed to believe that the American people would be more prosperous with unrestricted free trade. We are not justified in doubting that many men are honest in maintaining these convictions. Careful observers of men and their acts find in all departments of industrial and political life that many men fix their standard of faith in accordance with local or personal interest, rarely regarding the general interests of society. Under his kind of patriotism it is not strange, importing as we do, under what one of your free trade correspondents designates the "villainous heresy of a protective tariff," over $500,000,000 worth of foreign commodities annually, that foreign or domestic capital employed in promoting importing, and selling the same, should oppose any obstructions, even national protection, to the enjoyment for their special benefit of such a wonderful market upon American soil. It is not strange that foreign capital or the men or interests it employs should oppose any protective influence which favors American labor, American genius or American capital seeking the employment thereof by the production of a like class of commodities within the shadow of American homes. It is no strange that to ensure federal legislation favorable to these special interests those immediately interested should seek to spread before the American public every kind of specious argument and appeal to every local or party prejudice which would favor this anti-patriotic policy of free trade.

Political parties for sake of success have repeatedly shown themselves willing to lay aside [illegible] the principles seeking success [illegible] option of most doubtful [illegible] they might gain some local strength, but [illegible] supremacy.

Our national enemies have sneeringly pointed to this tendency as in time ending democratic governments.

As a democratic people emerging by revolution from the furnace of aristocratic power, it was confidently expected that political equality would correct all social evils; but the old puritanic prejudices against wealth and its power for evil gradually arrayed the masses against all accumulations of this selective energy, with individuals or in corporate bands. No matter how [illegible] many men seeming to [illegible] as an enemy to be especially dreaded in society. This [illegible] guarded unwise policy arraying the [illegible] against capital, and the prejudices of ignorance, poverty and discontent against the associations of wealth employed in establishing works of public interest, such as manufactures, railways and like elements of national progress.

These short-sighted prejudices became logmas as they were adopted as party resources, and when yoked with free trade they became hand in hand established as dominant principles and were engrafted as popular watchwords upon the great seal of the democratic faith.

The deplorable condition of the country induced by the adoption of these unsound principles of economy, especially the result of free trade, is patent in our history. Over matched and thoroughly discouraged by foreign competition in every line of our industries, wages so low as to afford adequate support to workingmen was it strange that [illegible] filled the public mind?

The exigency of this policy culminated in 1824 [illegible] congress gave relief to the distress [illegible] that had a fair claim to protective policy [illegible] bill and the one which followed in 1828 completely changed the condition of the [illegible]. [illegible] capital [illegible] investment, labor was [illegible] manufactures [illegible] that they would [illegible] our war debt was paid off.

Notwithstanding President Jackson in his message to congress had declared our prosperity unequaled in any portion of the world, yet a complete change of policy was forced by free trade influence upon the country by the congress of 1834, and in 1837 the [illegible] our President Tyler was unable for want of funds in the United States treasury to draw his salary, declared in his annual message in 1842 his regret that the government was unable to negotiate a loan of $1,000,000 [illegible].

From 1853 to 1857 the country was [illegible] with foreign [illegible] distress [illegible] of 1857.

What was the result? [illegible] energy seemed to spring [illegible] discontent [illegible] message of 1850 [illegible] this words: "Labor in all its branches is receiving an ample reward while education, science and the arts are rapidly enlarging the means of social happiness. The progress of our country in her career of greatness not only in the vast extension of our territorial limits and the rapid increase of our population, but in resources and wealth and in the happy condition of our people, is without an example in the history of nations."

Eight days previous to this glowing representation the free trade tariff had been adopted. Its result was to arrest progress. After ten years of faithful trial of a policy which favored foreign interests instead of our own, another reduction was made, which was immediately followed by the panic and business suffering of 1857. From this time until the rebellion our government even borrowed money to pay expenses.

AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

The Matter of U. S. Transportation on Land Grant Railroads.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WASHINGTON, March 9.—The court of claims rendered a decision to-day in the case of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad Co. against the United States, in which claimant seeks to recover compensation for transportation services rendered by it to the United States in 18[illegible] and 1876. These services at the ordinary tariff rates charged the public would be worth $170,843. The court finds however that claimant is entitled to recover for transportation done for the United States over its land grant road from March 3, 1876 only 50 per cent of the ordinary tariff as charged the public, viz: the sum of $85,4[illegible]1, which, less $79,798 already paid by the government on account thereof, leaves still due $5,6[illegible]3. The opinion of the court as to the percentage of the claim which the road is entitled to recover is decisive of twelve or fifteen other pending cases brought by land grant railroads, involving between half a million and one million dollars.

A COLONY FOR WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

One Hundred Persons Getting Ready to Start from Kansas.

Kansas papers contain an advertisement of which the following is a copy:

HO FOR WASHINGTON TERRITORY!

> A colony has been organized and incorporated under the law of the state of Kansas for the purpose of emigrating to Washington territory. Will leave Topeka, Kansas, by overland about April 1st, 1880. A copy of the constitution and by-laws will be sent free to any person who is desirous of joining the colony. Address at Topeka, Kansas.
>
> J. J. BROWNE, Secretary.
> M. A. MCPHERSON, President.

A letter from the secretary to Mr. J. M. Williamson, who is well known as a former resident of Portland, and who has now returned here after a stay of two years in Kansas, where he took great interest in giving information about Oregon and Washington, and to whose efforts the organization of this colony are largely due, states that the project will certainly be carried out. By the 16th of February, the day on which the letter was written, sixty were enrolled for the colony, and others were greatly interested. Specimens of wheat and copies of THE OREGONIAN sent by Mr. Williamson attracted great attention. In several counties of Kansas efforts making to interest people in Oregon and Washington, and there is great promise of success. A Topeka paper says:

It will probably interest our readers to learn something more concerning the plans of the Washington territory colony. Its board of directors is composed of earnest, determined men, all of whom intend going with the colony and make their future homes wherever it may locate. Part of the colony will start overland about the 1st of April, the second probably by rail in July following. Each passenger overland may enter a pool for purchasing provisions for himself and family in quantity before starting, and they will be shipped to convenient points along the route. It will require fully three months for the trip overland. The nearest point on the Union Pacific railroad is 600 miles from the location decided upon.

The location will be near the center of the territory, just east of the Cascade mountain range on the Columbia river. The land is subject to homestead, pre-emption and timber culture entry, 160 acres to each claim. At the meeting Monday evening gentlemen who had resided in Washington territory gave glowing descriptions of the country. Timber is in great abundance, chiefly hemlock and cedar, the trees growing to immense size.

BABY DIMPLE'S HOUSE.

Block upon block, block upon block,
Wait baby, wait till the time to knock,
Hush, Baby Dimple, still as a mouse,
This is the way to build a house.

What shall it be—a church so high,
With a steeple up to the very sky?
First we will build a good thick wall—
Still, baby, still, or you'll spoil it all!
Block upon block, till all is complete,
That is the way to build, my sweet.

Here is the door, and here is the steeple,
Within are the preacher and all the people.
Now, baby, now, for the final shock,
Ah! that was only a tiny knock.
Once again, Dimple—one, two, three,
Over it goes in your merry glee,
And that is the end of the church and the steeple,
But where are the preacher and all the people?

THE KELLY-PATRICK DISPATCH.

To THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

On Nov 28, 1876 the following dispatch was sent from Portland

PORTLAND Oregon, 28 Nov., 876

W T Pelton 15 Gramercy Park By viser association innocuous to negligence cunning sanuly previously readmit doltish to purchase afar act with cunning afar sacristy unweighed afar pointed tigress cattle superannuated syllabus di stort ness misapprehension contraband kountze bisule ous top usher spiniferous. Answer

J N H. PATRICK

I full endorse this. JAMES K. KELLY

The translation of that dispatch by a key which was then in the possession of Kelly Bellinger and Patrick is as follows

Certificate will be issued to one democrat. Must purchase republican elector to recognize and act with democrat and secure vote and prevent trouble. Deposit ten thousand dollar my credit Kountze Brother, 12 Wall street. Answer

The great inquiry ever since has been whether Kelly when he endorsed that dispatch knew that it contained a demand for money to bribe an elector and whether Bellinger was privy and consenting to it. Kelly swore before the committee that he was innocent of all knowledge of so much of it as called for bribery money, though he admitted making the endorsement. Bellinger also swore that he had no such knowledge, (p 390 of Report of Committee) Let us see first whether Bellinger swore truthfully and we will make him tell his own story Mr Patrick reached Portland in company with Kelly on the afternoon train of Nov 23 1876 as Kelly swears (p 335) and put up at the Clarendon Hotel Immediately they and Bellinger were in close consultation On pages 304 and 305 Bellinger testifies how he had been attempting to raise from democrats here the amount of money thought to be needed and spoke of Griswold as a man willing to contribute The examination then proceeds

Q.—He had bet on Tilden? A—He had bet on Tilden I informed Mr Patrick of these things, Mr Patrick said he thought the national committee would help us out. I then telegraphed or got Mr Patrick to do so, a statement of our condition I do not know but what I prepared the telegram myself I am not positive about this but we telegraphed that we desired a certain amount of money

Q.—To whom was that telegram sent? A.—I think it was to Mr Pelton.

And Mr Bellinger then goes on to swear that this was the first dispatch sent east Then after questions relative to the employment of attorneys, which was testified to have been made before the sending of that telegram the examination proceeds

Q.—After that was done you telegraphed to Pelton and Miller wanting to know if $10,000 could be raised? A.—Yes sir

Then the witness testifies that an answer was received refusing the money Now the telegram above quoted is the first one that appears in the committee's report as sent after Patrick reached here And it is evident that is the one Bellinger refers to The only one that seems an answer is one dated Nov 29, 1876 as follows

NEW YORK 29 Nov., '76.

To J H N Patrick Portland, Oregon No How soon will governor decide certificate? If you make obligation contingent on result in March it can be done and increasable slightly if necessary

(No signature.)

The examination of Bellinger and Kelly shows that the answer to the first telegram for money was "no" Then on the 30th the following telegram was sent in cipher

PORTLAND Or Nov 30

To W T Pelton 15 Gramercy Park New York — Governor all right without reward will issue certificate Tuesday this is a secret republicans threaten if certificate issue to ignore democrat claim and fill vacancy thus defeat action of governor One elector must be paid to recognize democrat to secure majority Will take five thousand for republican elector Must raise money can't make fee contingent sail saturday Kelly and Bellinger will act. Communicate them must act promptly (No signature)

On page 308 Bellinger in reply to question if that was the dispatch sent by him to Pelton said My impression is that it is Then the examination proceeds

Q. Give your best recollection of the translation of that dispatch? A. As I stated a while ago our first application for money was met by a flat refusal I then telegraphed more particularly, stating our situation that we had employed this firm of attorneys and had agreed to pay them $8000 that other expenses might be necessary

Again on page 320 Bellinger testifying about a dispatch from New York dated Dec. 1 and addressed to Patrick testified that he or Col Kelly (Patrick having left) opened it

Q.—Were you and Col Kelly authorized to open letters and dispatches coming to Mr Patrick after he left? A—I felt authorized to open dispatches Most of these dispatches I considered my own dispatches through Mr Patrick using his name

It should be borne in mind that Bellinger's evidence was given on Jan 28 1877 and the key to this cipher was not discovered or exposed till February 16th Therefore he was less careful about crossing himself thinking the cipher would never be exposed Then on this evidence is it not clear that Bellinger knew the demand in dispatch of 28th for money to buy an elector? Patrick simply telegraphed what B and K asked him to do, B says in one place that he telegraphed or got Mr Patrick to telegraph this first dispatch that he considered most of the dispatches his own He swore that he thinks he sent the telegram of 30th November, which asserts that Kelly and Bellinger will act in buying the elector To say that Bellinger did not know the whole contents of all those dispatches is ridiculous in face of his own testimony and it is equally plain that he thought Kelly also knew all about it else why telegraph that "Kelly will act?" Furthermore it is a little silly to say that the most important part of the programme was unknown to the two men who were engineering it

Let us see in the second place if Kelly knew the contents of that first dispatch He endorsed it If he did not know fully its meaning he must have been very silly As it was the first sent it only was thought necessary to be endorsed None were so afterwards It was considered the most important as initiating this vital programme Kelly nowhere swears that he didn't know the contents of the dispatch dated November 30th It is presumable that he did and that Patrick and Bellinger used his name with his full consent as he was present and the chief of their counsels Indeed in page 336 Kelly says that Patrick was not very active in managing that electoral business, but that he (Kelly) had taken an active part in it He continues I had seen Mr Bellinger, and we had talked freely about it and decided what we should do and Mr Patrick simply acquiesced. He said he thought we were doing what he should do He simply approved what we suggested ought to be done and beyond that he did not take any active part It is noticeable too that Kelly though making a flat denial in the senate of any knowledge of the bribery clause, is evasive in his testimony before the committee He says on page 338 The substance of that telegram [of Nov 28] as stated to me by Mr Patrick when he came into the room was that he had requested Colonel Pelton to place to our credit $10,000 for the purpose of paying lawyers fees and the necessary expenses that should be incurred in attending to this matter and that if not used it would be returned or such portion of it as was not used That was his explanation and my understanding of the telegram which I endorsed

Here his pliant conscience enables him to creep out by silently including this bribery money under the clause necessary expenses if he should happen to be charged with false swearing While it may be true that the endorsed dispatch was not actually translated from its cipher by Patrick for Kelly back to English there can be no doubt that Kelly knew from the outset the purpose to buy this elector and it is equally clear that the telegram was first written out by Bellinger and revised by Kelly Whether the cipher words as actually written out in the dispatch were converted from English into cipher, in Kelly's hand writing instead of Patrick's will be saved for another article which the public can study at their leisure, in connection with this review of that crowning act of the career of these seekers after favor Does anybody think such men are fit for judges? T JEFFERSON SMITH

The seventieth birthday of Mrs. Ann S Stephens the novelist was recently celebrated by a dinner given in her honor by Mr Edward Dickerson Mrs. Stephens still seems as hale and hearty as a woman of fifty

ENGLISH CROPS AND MARKETS.

The Mark Lane Express under date of April 22 reviews the situation of the crops and markets of Europe and says The somewhat wet weather last week has not injured farmers, as spring sowing is about finished. The average acreage sown in grain is larger than usual, as the weather has been unusually favorable The offerings of English wheat both in Mark Lane and the provinces have been very scanty and it is evident that reserves are extremely small in quantity Most samples are very indifferent, and there has been a difference of 20 shillings per quarter between the highest and lowest quotations Millers altogether ignored inferior samples but fine parcels sold at previous rates the decline in foreign not having affected English wheat. The bulk of the milling demand which has shown signs of improvement during the week, has fallen on foreign wheat Imports, both actual and prospective have been too large to enable sellers to establish any advance. All varieties have gone steadily into consumption at last Monday's decline of 1s 6d on American and 1s on Russian The abundance of American will not between now and harvest more than counterbalance the deficiency here Prices will probably be influenced by speculative operations in American grain centers, but the principal consideration in the future will be the weather Trade closed dull and a further reduction was necessary to effect sale in wheat and maize Arrivals off coast large which coupled with favorable weather and lower prices from America caused depression. Wheat has fallen two to three shillings per quarter, the large reduction being on white descriptions Maize sold steadily closing however, sixpence lower on the week Wheat for shipment also two to three shillings lower but neither inquired for nor freely offered at the decline. Maize receded sixpence to ninepence but business was most restricted Sales of English wheat last week 26,586 quarters at 47s 11d per quarter against 36 840 quarters at 41s 2d per quarter for the corresponding week last year Imports into the United Kingdom for the week ending the 10th inst, 1,279,799 hundred weights wheat 1 1 308 hundred weights flour

Liverpool Breadstuffs Market

LIVERPOOL April 24 —A leading grain circular says that during the past few days the provincial wheat market reports an improved tone with a partial recovery from recent depression The comparatively low prices of cargoes and off coast have tempted buyers and there has been large business with a shilling to two shillings of recent depression recovered At Liverpool since Tuesday there has been moderate business in wheat at a penny over Tuesday's prices This morning there was only small attendance Millers influenced by fine weather purchased sparingly but business done was generally at an improvement of a penny to two pence on Tuesday's full prices Flour was in moderate demand and slightly dearer Corn was very dull at a decline of about two pence.

BOSTON April 24 —Wool the past week was rather remarkable In trade sales of domestic having been only 4 100 pounds which are the smallest on record for many years but with the sales of foreign transactions for the week aggregate 1 010 100 pounds which of an exceedingly dull market, is about all that could be expected Sales can only be forced at lower prices but so far there is very little disposition to force sales New California spring 25@38½c fall 21@37

Catarrhal

DEISCA

Wei De Meyer's Treatise on Catarrh, explains the following important facts

1. That Catarrhal Colds become a poisonous infection, at first local and finally constitutional.

2 That, being Constitutional the infection is beyond the reach of mere local remedies.

3 That impurities in the nostrils are necessarily swallowed into the stomach and inhaled into the lungs, thus poisoning the Digestive Respiratory and Genito urinary organs

4 That Catarrhal virus follows the mucous membrane and causes Deafness, Dyspepsia, Chronic Diarrhœa Bronchitis, Leucorrhœa and Consumption

5 That Smokes, Douches Inhalations and Insoluble Snuffs cannot possibly remove infectious inflammation from the organs named

6 That an antidote for Catarrh must possess an inoculative affinity for and the quality of being absorbed by, the purulent mucous wherever located.

Based upon these plain theories, Dr. Wei De Meyer's Catarrh Cure has proved to be infallible It not only relieves, it cures Catarrh at any stage. Home testimony

WEDNESDAY MORNING, MARCH 10 1880.

TERRORISM IN SAN FRANCISCO.

San Francisco is terrorized by a mob. A vast multitude, the dregs, the feculence, the bilge-water of the city, rage and madden and threaten to destroy. For description of such a mob the picture in Sallust's Catiline stands as a picture for all time. Sansculottism, as Carlyle expresses it, rises many-headed from the ground, breathing fire and slaughter, and asks an affrighted city, "What think ye of me?" What the affrighted city thinks is seen in the preparations for defence, in the enrollment of citizens, in the planting of Gatling guns. It is evident that an electrical touch would set riot aflame. And to meet it there would be no way but to invoke the offices of Captain Mitraille. As the turbulence grows, it begins to be more doubtful whether the inevitable solution will not be forced in sundry whiffs of grapeshot. The first outbreak, it is certain, will be met by the strong hand of repression in an effective and memorable manner. Perhaps San Francisco will never be able to get rid of this horrible incubus of a sand-lot mob in any other way.

The mob has been nursed in the city by the designs of demagogues and by the good natured tolerance of citizens. It has grown to proportions which strikes dread through society paralyzes business, and converts San Francisco into a military camp, in which not only the regular troops but good citizens must stand to their arms. But the time is likely to come when the mob will find that it has over drawn its account of public forbearance. Though San Francisco, in proportion to size, probably has the largest and most turbulent rabble of any city in the world, yet the defenders of law and order, the defenders of the rights of justice and the rights of property, and the haters of the insolence and rapacity of mob rule, are numerous enough even in San Francisco to stamp into the ground this many-headed monster; and they will do it thoroughly if the threatened work of outrage begins.

The manifesto of the council of safety is outspoken enough. It does not mince words. "The agitation which was begun and carried on for a long time ostensibly for the discouragement of Chinese immigration, has degenerated into a carnival of impudent, blasphemous threatenings against life and property, and vilification of private character, until it has become the scandal of the time and brought dishonor upon American civilization." The agitation is "made a pretext for organization of large bodies of armed men whose declared purposes are riot and pillage, [illegible], to be aided by conflagrations, and the actors in it are to be rewarded by liberty of unlimited pillage." It is declared that public threats of the accomplishment of these designs will no longer be tolerated. "There is no middle ground," say the committee of safety, "on which any man can stand. Neutrality in this crisis can only be excused by extreme age or pliable [illegible]." A declaration which certainly is [illegible] enough to rally every good citizen to [illegible] duty.

Adoption of the new constitution was a [illegible] which encouraged the San Francisco mob, gave it confidence, and led it to believe it had intrenched itself permanently in power. True, the constitution was not [illegible] by the San Francisco rabble, but by the votes of the rural classes who acted from motives of a very different sort. They saw in the constitution an opportunity to [illegible] the power of the railroads; and hence through an unfortunate coincidence a strange and unnatural alliance was brought about between the lawless and violent element of San Francisco and the peaceful and conservative population of the rural counties. The sand-lot mistook the adoption of the constitution under these circumstances for a victory for itself and thought it had gained as a result full license and protection for [illegible] in which it might see fit to engage. It was further encouraged by its success in electing the principal officials of the city and county of San Francisco. Under the courage thus gained it has constantly been growing more insolent, violent and aggressive.

A community which desires to preserve the peace and its prosperity cannot afford to give encouragement to the spirit which makes this kind of organization. The way of safety is to [illegible] the beginnings of turbulence and disorder. Among ourselves are men who lend their favor and support to our business and industrial classes, but who nevertheless, in the hope of political advantage, join in a [illegible] which is only a sand-lot movement in its incipiency, and which no good citizen ought to encourage. What it leads to is [illegible] by the daily telegraphic bulletins from San Francisco. We can tell the [illegible] politicians who encourage these proceedings by their presence and speech that they are losing far more support from the quiet classes who detest shams, clamor and humbugs, than they are gaining from the class whom they are thus endeavoring to conciliate. They who hunt votes in this way usually, and very fortunately, too, lose more than they gain.

PROTECTIVE TARIFF AGAIN.

We give space to a long article, written as a plea for a protective tariff, by a well known citizen of The Dalles. To the earnestness and sincerity of the views expressed therein we give full credit. At the same time, to any one who has a grasp of the fundamental principles of free trade, they cannot but appear very insufficient. Nothing is more easy or more common than to find a theory accepted in full faith, and then to see as the next step all incidents that can be picked up coerced into support of it. So it is with nearly all who advocate the so-called policy of protection. Is there a period of industrial depression and financial distress at a time when the law affords little or no protection? It must be attributed to free trade. Is there a period of like depression and distress when the principle of protection is in full force, and the imposts are almost prohibitory? Still the faith of the protectionist in his theory is not disturbed. If the low tariff led to the distress and disaster of 1837, why, upon equal reasoning, did not the high tariff avert the distress and disaster of 1873? The fact is that in every commercial country prosperity ebbs and flows. Who can tell why confidence in business should have been wholly wanting in 1878, yet should be so strong in 1880? It can only be explained upon a very general principle. Everything in the industrial and commercial world is in perpetual flow, and yet is constantly seeking equilibrium. That prosperity now prevails is a fact which gives positive assurance that depression will come. Hence England under free trade has not continued prosperity; hence America under protection has it not; and these facts sufficiently answer all comparisons attempted between periods of free trade and periods of protection.

But let us look a little further. What is the object of a protective tariff? It is to prevent our people from buying foreign goods at a low price, and to force them to buy domestic goods at a high price. Its design is to give our own manufacturers the market at their rates. This is good for manufacturers, but it is not good for others. For it is clear as a positive demonstration can be that for all the protection which manufacturers get, consumers have to pay. If protection does not raise the price of the domestic article by keeping out the foreign article, it fails totally of its object. But it does not fail; its object is fulfilled. And protected manufacturers know it. Hence their opposition to tariff reduction.

We are asked to consider once more the tariff on steel rails. Some years ago these rails sold in England for $125 a ton. Less than a year ago they sold in England for $22 a ton, and in the United States for $41. Inquiry is made whether it was not our protective tariff that reduced the price? By no means. When these rails sold for $225 the process was new. There were no rails on the market. Since then, as the process has been perfected and extended and the market supplied, the price has been reduced. Granting that capital and labor are both cheaper in England than in America, a duty of $10 a ton, aided by the cost of transportation across the Atlantic, should be all the protection which our mills could justly claim. But rails it is said advanced in England when it was announced that our congress was likely to reduce the duty. Yes; and they also advanced in America, notwithstanding the proposed reduction. They are now just double the price they bore a year ago, having advanced both in England and America in consequence of the greater demand. It is said, however, that if the duty were reduced foreign rails would advance to an amount about equal to the reduction of the duty. In that case then we shouldn't buy from England, because we could still get the rails as cheap at home, and our mills could still make them at a profit. Here is an argument for protection which, like most others in that behalf, overthrows itself. But we are reminded that most other nations are protecting their industries; and why, therefore, should we not protect ours? Is it thought then that all the nations can make money by protecting their industries against each other? This is the old story of the farmer's sons who on rainy days always went to the barn where all made money by swapping jackets and jackknives.

Here, we are not manufacturers, but consumers. Our products are food only. Now since a protective tariff forces us to take goods of eastern manufacturers at their own prices how would it do to demand reciprocity for ourselves by a law whose effect would be to force them to take our food products at our prices? Would they think this fair? Probably they would remonstrate against it.

The true principle of business is removal of all restrictions. We can not cease to collect duties on imports, since the government must have a revenue; but we can and should levy imposts for revenue only. When we tax sugar at three cents a pound, the object is revenue, and we get it. When we tax steel rails at $28 a ton, the object is to keep out the foreign article and make buyers pay a high price to domestic manufacturers, and such is the result. It seems most unjust when government steps in and takes the side of the seller against the buyer in this or in any other way. And if the tables were turned on the protectionists in the eastern states, they could easily see it too.

It is stated that there are about 140 pupils in the high school. According to the report of the committee, published to-day, the cost of the high school to the taxpayers for the year is $9275. This would be at the rate of $60 25 for each pupil for the year, not taking into account the great sum spent on the building and grounds. Stated another way, the exhibit is still more striking. The list of graduates from the high school for the present year contains fourteen names. Dividing $9295 by fourteen, we get $634 the share of each; and if we take into account the money invested, we find that we are educating a few persons at a cost to the public for each of nearly or quite $1000 a year. And yet we are told that this special school must be maintained at this rate in the interest of public education. Many already dissent, and next year there will be many more.

The 250th anniversary of the first settlement of Boston is due next year, and the literary men of the city have entered upon an undertaking of formidable proportions as one of the features of the celebration. This is nothing less than the production of a memorial history of that town from the earliest historical times down to the present day. Work has already begun on the history, as many people being engaged thereon as would suffice for an ordinary cyclopedia. The work will consist of four large volumes when completed, and the editorial supervision of it will be intrusted to Justin Winsor, librarian of Harvard university, with Rev. Edward Everett Hale, Dr. Samuel A. Green and Charles Deane as assistants.

Every preparation has been made for pushing work on the Silverton and Lebanon branches of the Oregon & California Railroad. The first installment of money to be used in construction of these branches has been placed by cable dispatch with A. G Cunningham, the treasurer of the company, and the balance will be supplied as fast as needed. The company has bought in San Francisco 750 tons of new iron, and is now shipping from Oregon to San Francisco 1200 tons of old rails, to be rerolled and returned. Surveying parties are now in the field, and it is beyond doubt that the branches will be pushed rapidly to completion.

ADJOURNED SCHOOL MEETING.

Report of Investigating Committee—Its Recommendations Adopted A Better System of Keeping the Clerk's Books Ordered

Increase in Rates of Tuition from Non Residents

The adjourned meeting of the taxpayers of [illegible] was attended by about one hundred as [illegible] were present at the annual meeting. H. H. Northup presided. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved

The resignations of Judge E. D Shattuck and Rev T L Eliot from the general investigation committee were read and on motion accepted

Mr H. Y. Thompson then read the following

PORTLAND March 9 1880

To the [illegible] Your committee charged with the duty of investigating the reports of the board of directors and of the clerk of the district respectfully submit that we have made an examination of the reports referred to us and of the books papers and accounts of the district officers and that our examination has been as thorough as we were able to make in the limited time allotted to us

The books of account kept by the clerk are a cash book and a ledger in which entries are made of the cash transactions of the district The entries in these books appear to have been made at the time of the respective transactions shown by them excepting the case of the entries of receipts of money on account of the assessment roll which are entered in the cash book in gross sums as suits the convenience of the clerk and these amounts are obtained by taking the sum of the stub book of tax receipts and entering it in the cash book These two books together with the assessment roll constitute the only books [illegible] one can look for an understanding of the financial condition of the district Of course with this system of bookkeeping it is quite to be expected that errors and slight discrepancies will appear in the accounts. Some such slight errors were found by your committee and while they are small yet we call attention to them for the purpose of enforcing upon the district the idea that a more perfect system of bookkeeping should be adopted

An examination of the tax roll for 1879 shows a school tax amounting to $39 [illegible] 19 the delinquent tax roll as turned over to sheriff $1514 29 The whole tax collected by the clerk is $37 991 90 instead of the amount reported ($37 948 46) leaving in the hands of the clerk $43 44 less tax remitted to O N Denny $6 [illegible] in the clerk's hands unaccounted for by his report $18 99 so that the whole amount now in the treasury of the district is $172 69 instead of the amount reported—$153 70

Upon the attention of the clerk being called to the error he immediately corrected the account and refunded the deficiency subject to correction if further error shall be discovered in the account

It is apparent from a careful examination of the books and accounts that this small deficiency is the result of clerical errors not easily discovered by the system of accounts kept by the clerk of the district

The system in use is the one adopted years ago when the district was small and when owing to the small amount of revenues the citizens paid comparatively little attention to the manner in which the accounts were kept. But the revenues are now so great and the business so extended that it is deemed by your committee a matter of the greatest importance that an accurate set of books be kept We therefore recommend that in future the clerk be required to keep the accounts by double entry

We have endeavored to ascertain the cost of maintaining each department of the schools but as there are no separate accounts kept for the purpose of showing the actual cost we have ascertained as nearly as we can from the books and made estimates for the balance with the following result

HIGH SCHOOL.

Teachers salaries	$5 700
½ superintendent	450
½ janitors' salaries	475
½ salary of teacher of drawing	300
Stationery (estimated a)	150
Wood	175
Water	25
Incidentals (estimated at)	2000
Total	$9,275
Central school	$12 775
Harrison street school	12 50
North Portland school	11 650

These amounts have been ascertained in the same way as that of the cost of the high school and while it is not claimed that they are correct they approximate the cost of maintaining the schools We recommend that hereafter the accounts be so kept that the exact cost of each department of the schools can be ascertained

The amount reported by the clerk as paid to teachers is $31 400 89 This item is made up in the following manner

Salary of city superintendent	$1800
Teacher of drawing	1200
Supernumerary	300
	$3300
Principal of high school	1800
1st Assistant	1200
2d Assistant	1200
3d Assistant	1000
4th Assistant	800
	$ 6 00

CENTRAL SCHOOL

5th grade		700
6th grade		650
6th grade		625
7th grade	2 teachers at $625	1250
8th grade		625
		—$ 7760
Total salaries		$33 225

The amount actually paid is $2824 11 less than the teachers would be entitled to if they each received full salary but that item is made up of fines for non attendance of teachers institutes and deductions for loss of time the practice being to pay for the time actually employed

The estimated increase of teachers salaries for the coming year over that of last year is $5600 as shown by the report of the board of directors and from the fact that the services of four additional teachers have been required and the certainty that others will soon be needed we are satisfied that the estimate is not too great

For the past five years a considerable number of children of parents not residing in the district have been attending the schools paying tuition at the rate of twenty dollars per year in the primary and grammar departments and thirty dollars per year in the high school

The directors have suggested a change in the rates of tuition and we recommend that in the future the rates shall be as follows in the primary department, twenty dollars per year in the grammar department thirty dollars per year and in the high school forty dollars per year

We have also examined the journal in which is kept the record of the proceedings of the board of directors and from it it appears that all the warrants drawn by the clerk have been authorized by the board

In building contracts have been let to the lowest responsible bidders and many of the necessary supplies of the schools have been furnished by contract.

We have thought it proper to call attention to the manner in which the district is furnished with wood and the amount of wood necessary to keep the several houses comfortable At the beginning of the present school year there were in the Central Harrison and North schoolhouses 36 stoves and one furnace Since that time the Park building has been completed and seven of the twelve rooms in it are occupied

The average amount of wood per school for four years has been 13 [illegible] cords 18 75 [illegible] cords 1878-9 [illegible] cords Average 5 1

Wood purchased for the year 1879 80

Central	Fir 10 cords	Oak	5— 6
Harrison street	Fir 20 cords	Oak	90— 4
North	Fir 25 cords	Oak	35— 6
Park	Fir 5 cords	Oak	30— 50
Total	60		140 50

Bids were received for furnishing the above amount of wood and in July last the contract was awarded to Mr R. R Riley at the following rates Fir $3 95 per cord Oak $4 [illegible] per cord

That all may see the growth of the business of our school district we call attention to the following statement of disbursements for the past six years

For the year ending April 1876 $5 [illegible] / 1877 / 1878 / 1879 / March 1880 [illegible]

This statement shows the volume of the business and the necessity for an accurate system of bookkeeping

The district owns [illegible] in the suburban part of the city and [illegible] were authorized to sell [illegible] We are of the opinion that the board of directors [illegible] authorized to exchange that [illegible] located and we recommend that such authority be given to them [illegible]

[illegible]

We [illegible] committee and have [illegible] of great importance to the district In order that these recommendations may be acted upon we [illegible] submit them in the form of resolutions for the consideration of this meeting

We think that to ensure a careful consideration of the various matters of business pertaining to the district there ought to be some system of transacting the business at the annual meetings This can only be done by pursuing a course usual with all deliberative bodies that of adopting a permanent order of business to be followed at the annual meeting And we recommend such action on the part of this meeting

Resolved That the clerk of this school district is hereby [illegible] complete set of [illegible]

[illegible]

For the primary department $20 00 per year
For the grammar department 30 00 per year
For the high school 40 per year

These rates to take effect at the beginning of the next school year

Resolved That the following be the order of business of the annual meetings that we adopt [illegible]

Reading the minutes of the previous meetings of the year

Reading the report of the board of directors

Reading the report of the clerk

Reference of all the above reports to an auditing committee of three to be selected by the meeting whose duty it shall be to examine all the books accounts and vouchers of the district and to report thereon and to report upon a rate of tax recommended by the directors to be levied by the meeting

The following letter from Wm Gouverneur Morris special agent of the Treasury at Portland was read and ordered on file

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY TREASURY DEPARTMENT
PORTLAND OR March 8 1880

DEAR SIR In response to your request that I would communicate to your honorable board the present status of the question of bonding the steamships which ply between this port and San Francisco I have the honor to say

The bonding of the ships was deferred by the Oregon Steamship Co last fall because it was contemplated a transfer by that company be made of said ships to the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co which would necessitate rebonding This transfer has been made and I understand the ships will be bonded when President Villard reaches here next month or while Major [illegible] is in New York

The Pacific Coast Steamship Co has also had the matter under consideration and seems to be backward in acting, awaiting the course pursued by the other company

They have been in consultation with the customs authorities of San Francisco whom it seems have not encouraged this bonding I have written Messrs [illegible] a letter which will I think convince them that the supposed obstacles do not exist

At all events I advise that they may be now again [illegible] If the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co bond their ships [illegible] I have no doubt will be the case the Pacific Coast Steamship Co will, er necessity be compelled to follow a similar course I am respectfully your obedient servant

WM GOUVERNEUR MORRIS
Special Agent.

HON WILLIAM REID Secretary Board of Trade Portland

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

The committee on rooms by its chairman Mr Laidlaw presented a report also a report from the special committee on bankrupt law read and adopted and the committees discharged

APPROPRIATION FOR COLUMBIA RIVER BAR

A letter from the Astoria Chamber with a memorial was read asking the board to indorse same for appropriation of $250 000

After some discussion on this matter was deemed of so great importance that the navigation committee were authorized to have a dozen or more copies printed and some one employed to obtain the signatures of the majority of the people of this city and county thereto for presentation to congress

FREE OCEAN SHIP CANAL

A letter was read from the St Louis chamber of commerce with the following memorial asking its adoption by the Portland board

To the Senate and House of Representatives We the undersigned would most respectfully petition your honorable bodies to pass an act requesting the president of the United States to invite all the governments of the world having maritime commerce to appoint delegates to represent such governments in a convention of all such nations to be held in Philadelphia on the 4th day of July 1880 for the purpose of maturing and presenting a plan for the construction of a free ship canal across the Isthmus of Darien of such dimensions as will admit the passage through it of all ships small or great of all the nations of the earth the construction of such canal to be paid for in proportion to the tonnage of each nation uniting in its construction and to be kept in repair thereafter by each nation paying therefor in proportion to tonnage of each nation passing through said canal

Believing that the best interests of the whole commercial world will be promoted by the construction of this great inter-oceanic commercial connection on the principles herein indicated and that it will tend to draw each nation into more close and friendly relations we would beg most earnestly and respectfully for the most favorable consideration of the object had in view and to suggest that an ample appropriation be made to defray the expenses of holding such convention

We will not attempt suggestions as to the details for the construction and maintenance of this great work as a free ship canal We think they will not be difficult of solution We may say however that it seems to us such a canal should be neutral property in case of war between any of the nations joining in its construction and that provision should be made that the vessels of belligerent powers should not be molested within a certain specified distance at sea from the mouths of said canal

Whilst the cost of the construction of this great international work is within the means of any one of the great powers it is desirable that all should unite in it One great objection to a private corporation building it is the fact that the stock would probably in the end be greatly watered and the commerce of the world made to pay tonnage tolls to pay dividends on stock amounting to [illegible] times the actual cost of the construction of the canal

In selecting the route it seems to us that the one should be chosen upon which there would be no locks and dams to hinder and delay a passage through the canal or the one that would require the fewest number of such hindrances even though it might add considerably to the cost to adopt such a route

The matter is submitted for your most earnest consideration with the greatest respect

The meeting adopted this memorial and ordered it forwarded to congress and signed by the president and secretary under seal of the board

Mr Burrell considered this matter of vital importance to the North Pacific coast and moved that the navigation committee get a dozen or more copies printed and at the same time get it signed by the people of this city and county along with the memorial for the breakwater at the Columbia river bar

PORT CHARGES

The president called the attention of the board to the fact that complaints are constantly being made in foreign and New York newspapers against our system of port charges

He read the following third article on that subject from the New York Maritime Register of 18th February

We referred last week to the complaints concerning excessively high port charges at Portland Or The letter of a shipmaster has been followed and endorsed by one from a ship owner These complaints have no doubt some foundation in fact The inference is natural that those complaints can be substantiated by many others We can only urge again that the merchants of Portland Or should inquire into these charges It is to their interest to make their port as cheap as possible and the least complaint of so damaging a character should not pass unnoticed

The following resolution was then unanimously adopted

WHEREAS Complaints have been made in the London Shipping Gazette and New York Maritime Register as to alleged excessive port charges at this port and the manner in which the same are levied

Resolved That the whole matter of port charges be referred to a special committee and that they within the next three or four months investigate the various rates charged here and elsewhere and make such suggestions to this board for such legislation as may be required or otherwise as to such committee shall seem proper

The president intimated that he would hereafter appoint the committee and communicate their names to the secretary

It was then moved that the board adjourn Carried

BOYS, I'M COMING.

The Daily Oregonian.

THURSDAY MORNING, APRIL 29, 1880.

THE NORTHWEST.

Eastern Oregon.

The public school at The Dalles has closed.

Five Mile creek, near The Dalles, had a water spout last week. No damage done.

It has been raining in eastern Oregon, and it is thought that crops have been benefited.

The presbytery of the Cumberland Presbyterian church met at Union last week. No business of importance was transacted.

The Weekly Times, a well written and well gotten up paper, has appeared at The Dalles. It is published by Marsh & Michell, and politically is republican.

The Dalles Times: Saloons on water, in the shape of liquor boats on the upper Columbia river, near the railroad camps between Celilo and Wallula, have become a source of annoyance to the railroad company. These boats are denominated "trade boats," and go armed with a United States license and the worst grade of "forty-rod" whisky, following the camps as they move along the river bank. The company has forbidden the sale of liquors in the camps, but these trade boats drive a thriving business by keeping the channel of the river as a base of operations and occasionally coming ashore, and selling by the quart.

Palouse Gazette: Our mails have changed again. The trip is made from Lewiston to Palouse City in one day, and from Palouse City to Lewiston the next day. Our Palouse City mail arrives about 9½ A. M., and Lewiston mail at about 3½ P. M. We have Lewiston mail on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, and Palouse City mail on Tuesday Thursday and Saturday.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Financial.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, April 28.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 28.—Silver, 99⅜ buying.

NEW YORK, April 27.—Silver bullion 1000 fine per ounce, 13⅞.

Sterling exchange, prime bankers' long, $4 85¼; short, $4 88¼; good commercial from 1 to ¼c lower, documentary 2 to 1½c lower. 1:30 P. M.—$4 86@4:89.

U. S. Bonds—6s of '81, 104 bid; 4½s, 108⅞ bid; 4s, 107¼ bid.

Closed—6s 103⅞ bid; 4½s, 108⅞ bid; 4s, 107⅝ bid.

LONDON, April 27.—Consols, 99 1 16 money; 99½ account.

NEW YORK, April 28.—Money, 3@6; governments a shade easier; Western Union, 105⅞; Erie, 42¼.

There are but few matters in local trade circles which call for comment. Advices from Europe in regard to the market for breadstuffs are not encouraging, the general report being that prices are quiet and easier, with a light volume to the business doing. In San Francisco the trade is dull at former figures. There are some receipts here from east of the mountains, and it is said as high as $1 70 is occasionally paid, but the drift of quotations is all of 2½c@5c per cental lower.

Flour is in somewhat better demand, and as old stocks are being somewhat rapidly worked off, a good local trade has induced a slightly firmer feeling, with leading brands held at $5 75 per bbl.

Oats not very plentiful, and prices steady at last quotations.

The wool trade is still somewhat backward, and at present the volume of receipts is not as large as was expected. Prices as usual depend upon the quality and the condition in which the commodity is put on the market. Inferior grades have sold at 18c@22c, common 25c@30c, and choice 30c@32½c per lb.

Fever and Ague.

The true antidote to the effects of miasma is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This medicine is one of the most popular remedies of an age of successful proprietary specifics, and is in immense demand wherever on this Continent fever and ague exists. A wineglassful three times a day is the best possible preparative for encountering a malarious atmosphere, regulating the liver, and invigorating the stomach.

King of the Blood

Cures all Scrofulous affections and disorders resulting from Impurity of the blood. It is needless to specify all, as the sufferer can usually perceive their cause; but Salt Rheum, Pimples, Ulcers, Tumors, Goitre, Swellings, &c., are the most common, as well as many affections of the Heart, Head, Liver and Stomach.

SCROFULA.

Wonderful Cure of Blindness.

D. RANSOM, SON & CO.: For the benefit of all troubled with Scrofula or Impure Blood in their systems, I hereby recommend King of the Blood. I have been troubled with Scrofula for the past ten years, which so affected my eyes that I was completely blind for six months. I was recommended to try King of the Blood, which has proved a great blessing to me, as it has completely cured me, and I cheerfully recommend it to all troubled as I have been. Yours truly,

MRS. S. WEATHERLOW, Sardinia, N. Y.

THE GENUINE

DR. C. McLANE'S

CELEBRATED

FOR THE CURE OF

Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE.

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER.

DR. C. MCLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL.

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated.

Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR. MCLANE'S LIVER PILLS.

The genuine MCLANE'S LIVER PILLS bear the signatures of C. MCLANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrappers.

Insist upon having the genuine DR. C. MCLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation.

IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL

CHRONIC AND DIFFICULT DISEASES.

DR. BRENAN WILL GUARANTEE TO CURE any form of disease of the generative organs or private disease.

He has become an expert in the treatment of disease, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the

FOLLIES OF YOUTH,

Such as SPERMATORRHEA or SEMINAL WEAKNESS, or LOSS OF PERFECT VITALITY. Nearly two thirds of all the Chronic Diseases spring, either directly or indirectly, from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession.

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance, and permit those diseases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted, their organization broken down and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.

Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances.

Lost manhood perfectly restored.

Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Diseases, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint and all Diseases of the Eye and Ear, Stomach and Bladder, he can cure without fail.

Consultation Free, and a list of printed questions sent to those living at a distance who cannot consult him personally. Enclose postage stamp for list.

DR. GIBBON'S DISPENSARY,

623 Kearny St., S. F.

For the treatment of Sexual Diseases, Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis, Impotency, Seminal Weakness, Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing the following train of symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, spots before the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. Persons may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued. Medicines forwarded free from curiosity, with full directions. By enclosing Ten Dollars in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the World. Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, Box 1,957, San Francisco. Say you read this in THE OREGONIAN.

DR. SPINNEY,

No. 11 Kearny Street.

Treats all Chronic and Special Diseases.

YOUNG MEN

WHO MAY BE SUFFERING FROM THE effects of youthful follies or indiscretion, will do well to avail themselves of this, the greatest boon ever laid at the altar of suffering humanity. DR. SPINNEY will guarantee to forfeit $500 for every case of Seminal Weakness or private disease of any kind or character which he undertakes and fails to cure.

MIDDLE AGED MEN.

There are many at the age of thirty to sixty who are troubled with too frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits a ropy sediment will often be found, and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of a thin milkish hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause which is the second stage of seminal weakness. Dr. S. will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs.

Office Hours—10 to 4 and 6 to 8. Sundays from 10 to 11 A. M. Consultation free. Thorough examination and advice, $5. Call or address

WEDNESDAY MORNING, MARCH 10, 1880

A PLEA FOR A PROTECTIVE TARIFF.

ment to save its own life, called for an entire change in the national business policy, which would support us amid the trials of rebellion at our own fireside, and broken credit nursed by the hate of aristocratic governments. The American people who acknowledged the stars and stripes, saw the necessity of dependence upon our own powers; saw the necessity of the development of every resource, of labor, of industry, of manufacture; of reliance upon every power which could be gathered within our own boundaries. Gladly partisans laid aside abstruse questions of political economy, and with a will they sought what their necessities demanded within the storehouse of their own national resources, and from the products of their own labor and their own genius.

What has been the result? A government and country with unbounded credit at home and abroad, a diversification of employment, and development of resources which astonishes the whole world; a production in many of the lines of manufacturing and the arts, which not only supplies our own wants but is now seeking markets in the old world to such an extent that, combined with breadstuffs, calls for a balance of treasure in our favor, instead of, as formerly, constantly against us. These stern practical teachings have shaken the free trade faith of many political partisans; and a democratic congress hesitates to-day to force upon the country a policy which has been urged by every diplomatic art of British trade influences and French intrigue.

I need not cite proof of the insidious efforts to effect a change in our protective policy by urging upon congress a Franco-American treaty of commerce, which claimed community of interests or reciprocity as the basis of the measure. It is well known in commercial circles that for the three or four past years emissaries of the British chamber of commerce and the Cobden club have been [illegible], not only at home, but sent here to urge a like false pretense of reciprocity as an argument to reach the masses and induce a repeal of our tariff. Thomas Baily Potter acknowledges, in his speeches, that his mission to this country is to effect this repeal, and that it was for reciprocal advantage that he was employed as its advocate. What American believes that? Show us a commercial act of Great Britain that points to anything but her own interests.

In 18[illegible] we exported to Great Britain $321,[illegible] worth of commodities, and imported from thence $249,000,000 worth. In 1878 we exported to them $100,000,000 worth, and imported only $119,000,000 worth; a balance of $[illegible],000 in favor of American interests.

[illegible], if with a protective policy in [illegible] and free trade in England, we have [illegible] changed in our favor each year the [illegible] of trade, until in a single year it [illegible] to $221,000,000, while before the war [illegible] the adoption of a protective policy the balance was as constantly against us? [illegible] strange, that now we should be sought [illegible] trade interests with assertions of [illegible] kindest reciprocal wishes, and desirous [illegible] own interest for reciprocal relations? [illegible] strange that Mr. Potter in one of his [illegible] speeches, prays that we consent to relax [illegible] upon iron "just a little," so that it [illegible] received here more readily from England in return for American flour and American [illegible]? Does the reader suppose that a [illegible] of American beef or flour would be [illegible] in England if it could be bought [illegible].

[illegible] the arguments which have appeared from time to time in your columns [illegible] superficial leaning in favor [illegible] of the admission of steel [illegible] articles, being from the pen [illegible] W. Nesmith.

[illegible] my intention in writing this [illegible] the question of high or low [illegible] tariff upon any commodity, [illegible] capital invested in railways [illegible] was induced by a desire [illegible] the value of protection, as a lead[illegible] in our national economy; appli[illegible] interests of the whole people, in[illegible] only to a comparatively [illegible] them, the [illegible] of railways and commerce with [illegible].

[illegible] looking over the statistics of [illegible] iron trade, that previous to the [illegible] of Bessemer steel rails in this [illegible] the British manufacturer charged [illegible] equivalent to $[illegible] in currency. [illegible] rails were made here in 1867 [illegible] market. Prices of English [illegible] immediately fall to $112.

[illegible] manufacture became perfected [illegible] and skilled workmen were [illegible] here, and necessary [illegible] in abundance, and what [illegible] competition sought a share [illegible] demand called for [illegible] prices were reduced here [illegible] 1876, English rails could [illegible] $76 gold, or $[illegible] currency.

[illegible] occurred an incident [illegible] free traders to reconsider [illegible] that the in[illegible] of a protective tariff was to in[illegible] of duried articles. I refer to [illegible] a memorial signed by ninety [illegible] representing more [illegible] the total length of railroads in [illegible] addressed by them to [illegible] a duty of two cents per [illegible] upon imported rails.

[illegible] kings represented in their [illegible] that their object was to secure the [illegible] of steel rail manu[illegible] by encouraging the [illegible] looking forward to legit[illegible] rails to meet the e[illegible] in reconstruction and [illegible] roads. Congress answered [illegible] changing the ad valorem du[illegible] to specific duty of 1¼ cents [illegible] increase of establishments [illegible] steel rails was the anticipated [illegible] price in January, 1879, had [illegible] in the American market.

[illegible] I wish to ask, in all candor, did [illegible] tariff have any effect to reduce [illegible] price of Bessemer steel rails from [illegible] in a foreign port, to what they [illegible] encouraging the building of [illegible] in this country to reduce the cost [illegible] of rails made under the [illegible] $41 per ton?

[illegible] like to ask, if it is not well [illegible] the Bessemer rail works of this [illegible] (eleven in all, six of which are west [illegible]) would not have been [illegible] had the protective duty been removed [illegible] attempted? These American [illegible] must have closed or furnished [illegible] per ton the price fixed by English [illegible] with the hope of breaking [illegible] establishments. The plan [illegible] among iron masters, one of [illegible] an American merchant while [illegible] their works that, "when [illegible] on the throat of labor again, we [illegible] out of Bessemer works in the [illegible]"

[illegible] taken before the commit[illegible] who have been considering a [illegible] the reduction of the duty upon steel [illegible] which are respect[illegible] the consideration of gentle[illegible] breaking down our sys[illegible] protection.

[illegible] we should be taught that the re[illegible] tariff duty upon steel rails $18 [illegible] as was proposed by the bill referred [illegible] introduce English rails at $18 per [illegible] were furnished from American [illegible] although steel rails had stood at a [illegible] price for more than six months in [illegible] market, yet upon the introduc[illegible] of representatives of a bill [illegible] the duty $18 per ton, the price ad[illegible] in the English market in three days [illegible] 27 per ton, and the increased [illegible] forced the price up from $22 to [illegible] per ton in the English market. It will [illegible] that the price of steel rails increased [illegible] Britain in six months, $29 per ton, [illegible] per ton more than the reduction asked [illegible] the bill before congress. If the proba[illegible] of a reduction of $18 per ton in our [illegible] upon rails, cabled to England, could [illegible] that market $12 17 in three days, what [illegible] be expected should it become a law?

Among the interests appearing before the [illegible] of congress, demanding a reduc[illegible] of the duty upon steel rails, was the New [illegible] Central Railroad Company, the stock of which is considered the best of the kind in [illegible] country, the dividends which have been [illegible] upon this stock between 1853 and 1879 [illegible] to the vast sum of $103,000,000, [illegible] an undivided surplus of $9,000,000 [illegible] the property meantime. For the last [illegible] years it has regularly paid a dividend of [illegible] per cent, meantime laying by a surplus of [illegible],000, the earnings of the first quarter of the year 1879 showing $1,000,000 over the same quarter for 1878, and at the present time the business of the company shows net earnings equal to 14 per cent. on capital stock; and Mr. Vanderbilt considers the duty bar[illegible].

Another western railroad, which earned [illegible] money in 1879 (so says the report from which I copy) that, to disguise the facts from the public, declared a scrip stock dividend of 21 per cent, on which, coupled with the other stock, 10 per cent of earnings was distributed, so as to make the dividend appear a reasonably moderate one. Does it not have an absurd appearance that such organizations should be found offering objections to a sound line of protection, in favor of the eleven Bessemer companies, who have to deliver, during the year 1880, 500,000 tons of steel rails at $10 per ton less than the present price of English rails laid down here, clear of duty?

Have the public reason to believe that the business interests of the country will be furnished with cheaper transportation in exchange for free trade in rails? I referred to the sensitive condition of the English market, and I wish to assure the reader that no market studies the chances of changes in our tariff more than the English market, with all its boasted indifference to international trade relations. It is well remembered that when congress reduced the duty upon pig iron from $9 per ton to $7 per ton British manufacturers immediately decided to raise their price $2 per ton. So with salt; the same day congress made a reduction of more than half, the price of British salt was advanced so that we got no benefit from the reduction. So with quinine; the price advanced in England 37½ cents the next day after the repeal of the duty upon it here. Steel rails and every class of manufacture have watched the American tariff with jealous eyes.

With labor under absolute control, at less than half what it brings in America, and capital at half what it costs here, with surplus of capital vast beyond conception, seeking profitable investments, it is not strange in spite of our immense volume of resources, that we need the constant protection of the government.

It is the practical recognizance of the changes, embarrassments, and perils of life, which calls for our associated strength under a government of equal rights, which gives value to our form of government, and invites the individual from every form of government upon the earth to become associated with us. It is the genius of a republican form of government.

"Protection to life and property is an obligation which the government owes to the citizen in consequence of his obligation of allegiance to his government."

In offering you this article I had no wish to question the amount of any duty or the bearing of protection or free trade upon political parties, but to advocate the acceptance, by every citizen, as an acknowledged obligation of citizenship, of the general principles of protection, as applied to the practical interests of the people; and, inasmuch as our dignity as a nation and power as a people depends upon the volume of associated benefits, the effective employment of our labor and capital and the utmost development of our resources, therefore every measure calculated to strengthen our citizens in a self-dependent condition, as against the people and industries of foreign governments, are measures of the greatest importance.

It would seem to be of great consequence that among the great industrial interests by which the country is sustained, an earnest protest should be entered against breaking down that system of domestic industry which has been successful in creating public confidence, has shown itself able to meet our own necessities of the hour, while rapidly reducing the public debt, has shown our own manufacturers not only faithfully serving our own people, but taking front rank in the markets of the world; and this under the policy of protection, while Great Britain, our free trade rival, is virtually in the depths of despondency and does not hesitate in business circles to point to our success as the result of our protecting care, and their calamities as the result of free trade, in which policy they have been left alone, even by their own colonies, Germany and Russia having emphatically declared in favor of the produce of native industries. Respectfully,

THOS. S. LANG.

Financially the situation in the local market has changed but little since the first of the year, except as seen in the increased volume of transactions. Borrowers are supplied readily at the same rates which have prevailed for some months, the interest charged under 12 per cent. per annum being in a measure modified by the character of the security proffered and the volume and time of the loan. Applications for loans on real estate security are becoming more frequent, and in most cases are to be expended in improvements. Receipts from the interior are fair in volume, and the available funds in the market show some increase.

In trade matters there is a good degree of activity, and prices for seasonable imported products generally have an appreciative tendency. Common woolen goods are decidedly higher, and dealers claim that the end is not yet. The same is true in a somewhat more limited sense of cotton fabrics. In groceries there are fewer changes of late.

Domestic produce in season is coming forward in moderate quantities, and the trade is substantially in the same tolerably active state noted for a week or two past. Vessels at hand loading wheat are getting along well, and receipts being lighter the warehouses are less crowded. Dealers who are exporters are doing but little in the way of buying having the cargoes for the ships in sight already in hand. The current price for ordinary to good lots of shipping wheat is from $1 82½ to $1 85 per cental, though by thorough investigation of the market an advance of 2@3c might be obtained.

Other products remain at last quotations.

NEW YORK FREIGHTS AND MARKETS.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

NEW YORK, March 9.—A snow storm to-day added dullness to a dull market, and nothing was done at the wharves. California clipper and steamer freights, while being more or less affected by news from San Francisco, are also less active on rates to agents of railroad companies, who are inclined to impose full tariff rates, and it is not likely that the next steamer will have a full cargo for San Francisco, although her departure has been postponed till the 12th. Under the new arrangement there will be only two through steamers a month.

Markets are generally dull. Breadstuffs are demoralized.

Wheat—1@2c lower.

Flour—10@15c lower to sell.

Barley—Neglected.

Provisions—Depressed, lower.

Rio Coffee—Totally neglected; values nominal.

Refined Sugars—Dull and weak and ⅛@¼c lower.

Hides—Quiet and very firm.

Turpentine—Speculative demand higher, 55c@ $1 02.

Petroleum—Unchanged.

Crude Oil—Quiet and firm. In New Bedford there have been further sales, making the total 950 bbls of sperm for home use at $1 07; 500 bbls do for export private; 1000 bbls northern whale for home use, private.

Grain and Stock Company's Reports.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 9.

Receipts—500 qr sacks flour, 16 000 ctls wheat, 300 ctls oats, 6,000 sks potatoes, 20,000 doz eggs.

Charters—The previously reported ship L. Schepp gets [illegible] for Liverpool.

Butter—Choice firm at 27½

Eggs—19@20c.

Lard—Tins firmer 8@8¼; Eastern cases firm 12½.

Salmon—Columbia river, 1 lb standard brands firmly held at $1 25 on river. Late sales aggregate, say, 25,000 cases, nearly all at that price. Buyers bear the market to get in, but operate freely at concessions.

Hides—Dry and kip and calf at 17½c, private advices quote New York at 22½c.

Bags—Machine sewed, large sales at 10⅜ spot, 10⅞ May or June delivery. Most holders firm for 10½@11; market favorably affected by advices from Calcutta.

Wheat—No sales; very dull; market unfavorably affected by eastern and foreign advices. No. 1, $1 92½@1 95. No. 2, $1 85@1 90. Others unchanged.

CHICAGO MARKETS.

CHICAGO, March 9.

Wheat—$1 20⅞ for April.

Lard—$7 10 for April.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

Wheat—Unsettled at $1 40@1 45.

Flour—Quiet. Wool—Steady.

Beerbohm.

LONDON, March 9.

Floating cargoes of wheat quiet but steady. Cargoes on passage; buyers hold off, hoping to obtain some concessions. Liverpool, spot wheat rather easier: No. 1 standard, 11s 8d; No. 2, 11s 11d; red winter, 11s 6d; white Mich., 11s 1d; red Am spring, No 3 to No. 2, 10s@9s 6d. London quotations for Am extra state flour per 100 lbs, 14s 3d; Liverpool do, 11s 3d.

SUICIDE.

A distinguished Scientist once said: "No man with a strong, healthy stomach ever committed suicide, yet many suffer the torments of the damned with dyspepsia, when a single bottle of DR. MINTIE'S ENGLISH DANDELION LIVER AND DYSPEPSIA PILLS will give relief, and, if persisted in, cure the worse case of this distressing trouble. This pill cures torpid liver, biliousness, sallow complexion, foul breath, sick headache, heartburn, pain in side and back, removes pimples from the face, regulates the bowels, is sugar-coated and guaranteed purely vegetable. It acts directly on the coating of the stomach and on the liver; is suited to any climate, wet or dry weather. Beware of imitations; genuine has cut of lion on outside wrapper. Price, 50 cents. Sold by all druggists, Hodge, Davis & Co., Portland, wholsale agents.

How to Save Money.

Instead of going to a doctor, if you have Bright's Disease, Diabetes, pain in back and loins, smarting, inflammation, calculi, brick-dust deposit, or any trouble of the kidneys or bladder, buy a bottle of DR. MINTIE'S NEPHRETICUM, the great Buchu Compound. It is the best prescription ever compounded for these troubles. Abrams & Carroll, Wholesale Druggists, say: "We regard Nephreticum as the best Kidney and Bladder Remedy in the market." Woodward, druggist, Portland, Oregon, says: "Everybody speaks highly of it." Childs, druggist, Portland, says: "Sold lots of it; it always does the work." Many have been cured of obstinate kidney complaints after the doctors gave them up. Sold by all druggists. Price $1 00 a bottle, or six bottles for $5. Hodge, Davis & Co., Portland, Wholesale Agents.

Sir Astley Cooper's Vital Restorative.

The great English remedy—has made more cures of Nervous Debility, Seminal Weakness, Lost Manhood, nocturnal emissions, lassitude, inability for mental labor, despondency, and such diseases as are induced by youthful follies and excesses, than all other medicines combined.

It is not a stimulant nor excitant, is perfectly safe to take, is not a quack nostrum, and produces results that are wonderful.

Price, $3 a bottle. Four times the quantity, $10. Buy a bottle. It will not disappoint you. Hodge, Davis & Co., wholesale agents.

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN

The Most Successful Physician on the Pacific Coast.

IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL

CHRONIC AND DIFFICULT DISEASES.

DR. BRENAN WILL GUARANTEE TO CURE any form of disease of the generative organs or private disease.

He has become an expert in the treatment of disease, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the

FOLLIES OF YOUTH,

Such as SPERMATORRHEA, or SEMINAL WEAKNESS, or, LOSS OF PERFECT VITALITY. Nearly two thirds of all the Chronic Diseases spring, either directly or indirectly, from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession.

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance, and permit those diseases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted, their organization broken down and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.

Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances.

Lost manhood perfectly restored.

Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Diseases, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint and all Diseases of the Eye and Ear, Stomach and Bladder, he can cure without fail.

Consultation Free, and a list of printed questions sent to those living at a distance who cannot consult him personally. Enclose postage stamp for list.
